NEW TRUMAN BUDGET CITED IN TAX FIGHT

President Sees 5 Billion Surplus and G.O.P. Asks "Why No Cut?"

(Details of Truman budget forecast on Page 3)

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21—President Truman's forecast of a record-smashing treasury surplus of nearly $5,000,000,000 next June touched off a fresh Republican clamor today for a tax slash in 1948.

Chairman Bridges (R-NH) of the senate appropriations committee said the President's mid-year budget review estimating tax receipts this year at $41,667,000,000—$2,100,000,000 higher than any previous forecast—proves that the country was "robbed of a tax reduction by purely political vetoes."

Mr. Truman twice vetoed efforts of the Republican-dominated congress earlier this year to trim individual income taxes by $4,000,000,000.

"Perhaps," Bridges declared at Fall River, Mass., "the President now will not be so determined about vetoing a tax reduction bill when it is presented to him."

But the Chief Executive said the $4,667,000,000 treasury surplus expected for the fiscal year ending next June 30 should go to debt retirement and to a stand-by fund to meet any domestic or world emergency.

Thus, a new tax battle when congress returns in January began to take form.

Mr. Truman put the total expected expenditures in the current fiscal year at $37,000,000,000, and estimated Uncle Sam's income in the same period at $41,667,000,000. Last January he set the spending figure at $37,528,000,000 and the surplus at only $202,000,000.

His new budgetary outlook was hinged on an expectation of continued high prices, taxes, incomes and employment—thus indicating he sees no depression clouds on the horizon.

The President's summation last night of the government's current financial position was issued against a backdrop of sharp controversy over how near the controlled congress came to hitting its goal of slashing his 1948 budget by up to $6,000,000,000.

Mr. Truman's report credited the Republicans with trimming his original spending estimate by $1,520,000,000 but he said the "net" saving likely will dwindle to only $528,000,000 or less because of factors that were not foreseen last January.

SCIOTO PLANT ACTION IS EXPECTED SOON

Move Made Toward Purchase by State.

By The United Press

COLUMBUS, Aug. 21 — The state attorney general today was expected to rule soon to clear the way for the state to accept 1,243 acres of the Scioto Ordnance Works at Marion for use as an adjunct to the Boys' Industrial school at Lancaster.

Transfer of the acreage to the state was approved by the war assets administration for one dollar and subject to three stipulations. The WAA also specified that Ohio submit a "certified copy of the resolution of the governing body...or similar authoritative evidence authorizing the transaction."

The ruling by the attorney general was asked by Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood to establish the authority for the state to accept the tract after the recent legislature failed to enact the necessary legislation approving the transfer.

The three stipulations laid down by the WAA on the transfer were: that for a period of 25 years the premises should be continuously used as and for a school for confinement, training and instruction of juvenile delinquents; the state shall submit semi-annual reports on the tract to the WAA or its successor; that the state will not resell or lease the premises within 25 years without first obtaining the written authorization of the WAA.

Welfare department plans for the tract call for 24 buildings for a medium security unit for older boys now housed at the overcrowded Lancaster school. The Lancaster school now houses 741 boys in quarters which were built to house 500.

County Youth Groups Stage Fine Program On Junior Fair Day

By MARY HERRING

Young residents of Marion county kept judges and county fair officials on the run yesterday when they took over for annual Junior Fair day.

Judging of poultry, sheep judging, Grange and vegetable exhibits started at 9 a. m. yesterday and continued until completed.

The parade of junior fair winners was held at 1 p. m. following the display of floats entered by county 4-H and Future Farmer members.

Girls of the 4-H clubs came next modeling their hand-made garments. The pony races were canceled because of the heat.

The grandstand was filled yesterday afternon for the parade and style show. One small barefoot boy apparently became tired before the parade was scheduled and rang the bell used for the harness races. Amazingly enough the parade wasn't long in coming.

Floats Skillfully Prepared

Floats entered in the parade were unique in design and showed an amazing ability in clever arrangement. First prize went to the Buckeye Lads with a complete farm scene, complete even to a small calf in the field. Second and third places went to Claridon township and Waldo Winners respectively. Both had entered floats depicting their interpretation of the 4-H club motto —head, heart, hands and health. On each float were club members costumed and posed to represent each of the "H's."

A string of ponies followed, then came the junior winners showing their entries.

In the style show which followed almost immediately, the girls modeled their handiwork proudly as well they should. The skill with which they had completed their work in all classes could shame many an experienced seamstress. All of the garments presented a sewing problem, but the girls had surmounted these difficulties and the results were commendable.

Awards Displayed

Although most of the 4-H club exhibits were taken out during the style show, the girls quickly rearranged their booths so the

PRINTERS AIR LABOR POLICY

Consider Resolution Defining Action Under New Federal Law.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Aug. 21 — The AFL-International Typographical Union's powerful policy committee refused today to make any more formal contracts with newspaper or commercial printers, but hinted at widespread shutdowns if temporary "skeleton" contracts are ignored.

The 89th convention, painfully split between the progressives and weaker but outspoken "independents," considered this resolution:

"It is our policy that we continue to maintain our long standing reputation for integrity in performing our contracts and carrying out our union commitments.

"It is our policy that we maintain our historic rights and prerogatives to which we have enjoyed for nearly a century. We believe the harmony of our relations which has prevailed, almost without interruption, for many decades between our members, our local unions and their employers, can continue in the future, as in the past, and it is our policy to try to continue it.

"Ill-Considered Legislation."

"We express this belief despite the fact that ill-considered legislation has recently been enacted, the effect of which might easily be disastrous to labor management relations.

"We confidently assert there are certain provisions of the labor management relations act of 1947 that are unconstitutional and invalid, that certain provisions of it are impracticable and unworkable and that a great deal of it is inequitable and unjust to organized labor.

"We believe that as the provisions of this act become generally known the law will in turn be amended to eliminate its defects and inequities.

"While there should not be and will not be any attempt on the part of the international and subordinate unions to violate any valid provisions of this law or of any law, federal or state, yet there should be and will be earnest endeavors on the part of these unions to avoid any condition that will result in their being penalized

Hammer Ruled Out In California Murder

By The Associated Press

SANTA ANA, Calif., Aug. 21—An eleventh hour court ruling in the Louise Overell-George Gollum murder trial has eliminated all testimony concerning a ball peen hammer which the prosecution contended could have been the weapon that killed Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Overell aboard their yacht before it was dynamited March 15.

Trial Judge Kenneth E. Morrison late yesterday sustained an objection by the defense to the testimony and in so doing eliminated the last of two instruments presented by the prosecution as the possible lethal weapons other than the dynamite.

The judge previously refused to admit as evidence an iron stanchion from the Overell yacht which Prosecutor Eugene Williams claimed was used to kill Mrs. Overell, the dismissed father of London.

PLANTS CLOSE AT MT. GILEAD AND GALION

North Electric Factories Shut in Company, UAW Dispute.

Special to The Star

GALION, Aug. 21 — Both Mt. Gilead and Galion plants of the North Electric Co. are closed down today in the labor-management dispute between the company and the United Automobile Workers Union (CIO).

Employes of the Mt. Gilead plant were dismissed at 10 this morning by plant manager Hoy Rhodebeck. Reason for dismissal was given as "lack of materials." Employes were told to remain home until notified by the company to return to work. Production workers number over 250.

Picket lines were thrown around the Mt. Gilead plant shortly before noon. Picketing was orderly, it was reported.

Deputies Sworn In

Mayor Ray Booher this morning ordered two deputies sworn in to augment the local police.

Picketing at the Galion plant continued peaceably today after first picket lines were set up yesterday about 3:30 p. m. keeping out the entire second shift and an office shift scheduled to enter the plant at 8 p. m. Approximately 443 production workers were out.

Lines were formed immediately following a 1 p. m. meeting of union workers in the Macabee building on the public square where by a unanimous vote employes voted to close down the plant until the management signs a contract with Local 750 of the UAW, recognizing the union as the employes bargaining agent. A wage increase of 35 cents an hour is also demanded by the workers, Edward Duck, UAW organizer said.

Union Officers Speaks

The mass meeting of employes who left their work at 1 p. m. Wednesday was addressed by Edward J. Duck, international representative of the U. A. W. Workers also decided to keep everyone out of the plant, engineers, office workers and officials, with the exception of employes who are responsible for maintenance and protection of the plant. It was also agreed that the picket line will be

RUSS PROTEST REICH PARLEY

Claim Attempts To Raise German Steel Output Violates Treaty.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21—Russia has protested the proposed American-British-French conferences on raising the level of German industry.

Official United States sources acknowledged this today, but did not disclose the reasons the Soviets gave for their objection.

It is understood, however, that Russia claims the plans for the conference would nullify terms of the Potsdam agreement holding down German industrial productivity.

The conference is scheduled to open in London Friday as part of a joint Anglo-American attempt to strengthen out the economic affairs of the western world to speed recovery.

Write Off Agreement

Even before this development, the United States apparently was ready to write off—in favor of a new approach—attempts to reach agreement with Russia on Korea and Austria.

This impending development stands out against a library of congress report declaring that relations between this country and the Soviet Union have deteriorated "dangerously."

In the case of Korea, Foregn Minister Molotov thus far has failed even to acknowledge Secretary of State Marshall's pro-

Over 100 People Of Neighborhood Join in Futile Hunt

By W. T. BUCHANAN
City Editor, The Marion Star

Little Carolyn Jeannette Peterson, 20 months old, missing from her home near Waldo since 11 a. m. yesterday, has been the object of an intensive 24-hour search by sheriff's officers and more than 100 residents of the community.

At noon today, after searchers had repeatedly scoured the territory within a radius of a mile and a half of the house, the hunt was called off and Sheriff LeRoy Retterer said he was of the opinion the child had been stolen.

The pretty blond, curly-haired child was first discovered missing from the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peterson of route 98, a mile and a half north of Waldo, at 11 a. m. yesterday.

Trail Absolutely Gone

Sheriff Retterer turned to the theory the child had been stolen in the face of an absolute lack of clues as to her whereabouts.

An intensive search starting about noon yesterday has failed to reveal more than a meager clue. More than 100 men have scoured the countryside within a radius of a mile and a half of the Peterson home. They kept up the hunt from noon yesterday until into last night and returned early this morning to resume the search.

Carolyn Jeannette was last seen by her mother, Mrs. Ida Peterson, 27, shortly after 10 a. m. yesterday when she placed the child with an older brother, Carl Edward, 3, in the yard to play.

No Enemies, Parents Say

At noon today the sheriff was questioning the parents in an effort to learn if they knew of anyone who might have held a grudge against the family. Both said earlier, however, they had no enemies.

No Evidence of Motive

The sheriff said his talk with the parents revealed nothing on which to base a motive. There apparently is no motive that we can determine, he said. There has been no family trouble and we can learn of no one who might be an enemy, he concluded.

After the developments this morning the sheriff called off the hunt in the vicinity of the home. He prepared to broadcast an alarm over the state highway patrol radio system.

The sheriff said he was not overlooking the possibility that the child might have been picked up by a motorist as he passed along the highway.

The child, with long curly blond hair and blue eyes, is exceptionally pretty. Officials realize the possibility that a motorist may have noticed her as they drove by, stopped on a sudden impulse and picked her up.

There is one slight clue to support this belief. The three-year-old brother, Carl Edward, gave his parents and the officers a rather vague story about seeing a man get out of a yellow car near the house. From his story it would appear the car had been headed north.

Circumstances in Doubt

The parents and officers, however, could not be positive that the car had any connection with the disappearance of Carolyn Jeannette. It may be, they said, that the boy had seen such a car at another time. They doubted too, whether he would recognize the color yellow.

One meager clue turned up late yesterday afternoon. Searchers found a plaything of the Peterson children about 500 feet south of the house. It was the top of an aluminum coffee percolator. It was found where the Dunbridge road intersects 23 just south of the home.

Whether the top was thrown there by a possible kidnaper, is only conjecture. It might have been dropped there earlier by one of the Peterson children. There was no indication of any struggle at the spot.

"No Relief in Sight" Prediction Nips Hope for Cooler Weather

Continued hot weather, with "no relief in sight," is the weather man's prediction for Marion and most of the country generally, today and tomorrow, according to The Associated Press. Hope for relief, built on promise of a mass of cool air on the move from Canada was dashed by a report that the cold front is stalled at the Canadian border. The mercury stands near 100 degrees in many places between the Rocky and Appalachian mountains.

Forecast is "partly cloudy, continued warm and humid today, tonight and Friday, with scattered thunderstorms."

Temperature at noon today in Marion was 94, while yesterday's maximum was but three degrees below the 100 mark, 97, and minimum was 71. A year ago thermometers registered a high of 85 and a low of 58.

Cold Air Seems To Be Entrenched at Border

By The Associated Press

With all the Canadian cold air stalled at the U. S. boundary [illegible] temperatures began climbing back to 100 degrees or higher.

Another day of continued searing heat was forecast for virtually all the states between the Appalachians and Rockies. The Chicago weather bureau said the mercury would climb to between 98 and 103 degrees in Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Nebraska. In South Dakota the maximum was expected to be 102 and in North Dakota, Iowa and Illinois it was to be 98.

CAROLYN PETERSON

coded this morning, however.

Airplanes flown by Jack Augenstein and Russell Rider, both of Waldo, joined in the fruitless search yesterday. The father rode in one to scan the area around the house.

Had the child been in the vicinity it is believed she would have been easy to see since she was wearing a bright orange playsuit.

While the search of the fields was in progress other men were searching ditches and fence rows along the highway.

All Roads Searched

They hunted for evidence that the child might have been struck by an automobile or truck, but found nothing. This morning the sheriff and deputies searched route 95 from Waldo for several miles north as well as all side roads.

It was after the fruitless hunt this morning that authorities turned to the belief the child had been stolen. Even when the hunt ended at darkness last night they still believed she had strayed away from the house.

The Petersons have lived at the route 98 home for four years.

They were married Nov. 9, 1939. They lived in Marion several years, first on Charles street, then John street and North Grand avenue before moving to their present home. The farm is owned by H. H. Beringer of near Waldo.

The missing child and Carl Edward were born there. The other children are Judy Carol, 6, and Roger Alan, 4.

Mother Native of Kenton

The mother is the former Miss Ida Britenstine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Britenstine, both deceased. She was born in Kenton. Later the family moved to the vicinity of Meeker where Mrs. Peterson attended school.

Mrs. Peterson has the following sisters: Mrs. Margaret Robbins of Pennsylvania avenue, Mrs. Louise Murphy who lives at the intersection of routes 95 and 98 east of Marion, Mrs. Frank Cutler of Denton, Ill., Mrs. [illegible] of Kenton [illegible]

INVITATION FROM DEATH

VANCOUVER, B. C.—It took French and Canadian government and Vancouver police officials seven years to identify the body of a man drowned off the French coast. The corpse was that of a British Columbia sailor, Richard Baxter, who died in action during the war. Baxter's body was found on the shore at Soulac-sur-mer, in Southern France, July 23, 1940. On his person was found a soaked invitation to a Vancouver wedding. The invitation proved the clue which led Ottawa and city police to the correct identity.

President Boosts Budget Surplus Estimate To Over 4½ Billions but Opposes Tax Cut

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—President Truman has hiked his estimate of the 1948 budget surplus from $262,000,000 to $4,667,000,000 but is opposed to using any of it to reduce taxes.

He maintained the surplus should be applied to reduction of the huge public debt or held in reserve for "possible additional international aid."

In a midyear budget review, President Truman estimated fiscal 1948 expenditures at $37,000,000,000 and receipts at $41,667,000,000. These estimates compared with his January figures of $37,528,000,000 for expenditures and $37,730,000,000 for revenue.

All the figures are for the fiscal year from July 1, 1947, to June 30, 1948. They did not include any possible outlays to help Europe next year under the Marshall plan.

Mr. Truman credited the Republican-controlled congress with a budget saving of $1,520,000,000. "But," the said, "about $1,000,000,000 of this would be offset by increases in spending over the amount contemplated in the original budget estimate last January.

Republicans have been claiming budget savings totaling from $4,000,000,000 to $7,000,000,000. They based their claims on cuts in new appropriation requests and recissions of old appropriations. President Truman made his calculations on the basis of government spending.

Favors Debt Reduction.

The President did not discuss the tax issue as such. But he said "the surplus . . . will be devoted to retirement of the public debt." Unless congress could override him, that means no tax cut at least until July 1, 1948. And he indicated he might be against it even after that.

He stood pat on this position when he vetoed the two Republican tax reduction bills approved by the past session of congress. He then said it was not the time for tax reduction.

The surplus now anticipated is about $700,000,000 more than the $4,000,000,000-a-year saving estimated for taxpayers under the two Republican tax reduction bills which President Truman vetoed.

He now said that using the surplus of about $4,700,000,000 for debt reduction would be "an important bulwark against the severe inflationary pressures to which the country is now subjected."

"The international situation has also made it imperative that we plan for a surplus, both in view of the problem of promoting world recovery and of the need for a reserve against emergencies, whether at home or aboard," he added.

Would Continue Policy.

President Truman promised that "the same prudent policy" would be followed in preparing the budget for 1949.

The 1948 fiscal year will end next June 30. The President will present another review of the 1948 budget, along with his first 1949 budget, in a message to congress early next January.

Mr. Truman is expected to include in his next budget message an estimate on tonnage expenditures that would be required under the Marshall plan to aid western Europe. Little of this money, if voted by congress, could be spent in time to affect the fiscal 1948 budget.

Congressional extension of wartime excise taxes accounted for $1,130,000,000 for the $3,937,000,000 increase in estimated government revenue since last January. Most of the remainder, Mr. Truman said, was "due to the rise of prices and national income."

Concerning claims of budget savings by the Republican-controlled congress, President Truman said $4,100,000,000 in recissions would result in a saving of only $153,000,000 in actual expenditures. He said virtually all the recissions comprised carry-over wartime appropriations and authorizations that would not have been used anyway.

He also said congress would have to make supplemental appropriations of more than $800,000,000 to offset some of its recent appropriation cuts. Money for tax refunds accounted for most of this, according to Mr. Truman's figures.

Wants Added Appropriations

President Truman also said he would ask for additional supplemental appropriations totaling $403,000,000 to cover some more military and navy public works, increases in social security aid to states and other items.

Total spending in fiscal 1948 would amount to $37,000,000,000 according to President Truman's present estimate. This would be only $528,000,000 less than his original estimate in January.

However, this does not mean that the Republicans succeeded in cutting expenses only $500,000,000. If congress had given the President all that he asked for, expenditures would total about $38,520,000,000.

INVITATION FROM DEATH

By International News Service

VANCOUVER, B. C.—It took French and Canadian government and Vancouver police officials seven years to identify the body of a man drowned off the French coast. The corpse was that of a British Columbia sailor, Richard Baxter, who died in action during the war. Baxter's body was found on the shore at Soulac-sur-mer, in Southern France, July 25, 1940. On his person was found a soaked invitation to a Vancouver wedding. The invitation proved the clue which led Ottawa and city police to the correct identity.

President Boosts Budget Surplus Estimate To Over 4½ Billions but Opposes Tax Cut

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—President Truman has hiked his estimate of the 1948 budget surplus from $202,000,000 to $4,667,000,000 but is opposed to using any of it to reduce taxes.

He maintained the surplus should be applied to reduction of the huge public debt or held in reserve for "possible additional international aid."

In a midyear budget review, President Truman estimated fiscal 1948 expenditures at $37,000,000,000 and receipts at $41,667,000,000. These estimates compared with his January figures of $37,528,000,000 for expenditures and $37,730,000,000 for revenue.

All the figures are for the fiscal year from July 1, 1947, to June 30, 1948. They did not include any possible outlays to help Europe next year under the Marshall plan.

Mr. Truman credited the Republican-controlled congress with a budget saving of $1,520,000,000. "But," he said, "about $1,000,000,000 of this would be offset by increases in spending over the amount contemplated in the original budget estimate last January.

Republicans have been claiming budget savings totaling from $4,000,000,000 to $7,000,000,000. They based their claims on cuts in new appropriation requests and recissions of old appropriations. President Truman made his calculations on the basis of government spending.

Favors Debt Reduction.

The President did not discuss the tax issue as such. But he said "the surplus . . . will be devoted to retirement of the public debt." Unless congress could override him, that means no tax cut at least until July 1, 1948. And he indicated he might be against it even after that.

He stood pat on this position when he vetoed the two Republican tax reduction bills approved by the past session of congress. He then said it was not the time for tax reduction.

The surplus now anticipated is about $700,000,000 more than the $4,000,000,000-a-year saving estimated for taxpayers under the two Republican tax reduction bills which President Truman vetoed.

He now said that using the surplus of about $4,700,000,000 for debt reduction would be "an important bulwark against the severe inflationary pressures to which the country is now subjected."

"The international situation has also made it imperative that we plan for a surplus, both in view of the problem of promoting world recovery and of the need for a reserve against emergencies, whether at home or aboard," he added.

Would Continue Policy.

President Truman promised that "the same prudent policy" would be followed in preparing the budget for 1949.

The 1948 fiscal year will end next June 30. The President will present another review of the 1948 budget, along with his first 1949 budget, in a message to congress early next January.

Mr. Truman is expected to include in his next budget message an estimate on foreign aid ventures that would be required under the Marshall plan to aid western Europe. Little of this money, if voted by congress, could be spent in time to affect the fiscal 1948 budget.

Congressional extension of wartime excise taxes accounted for $1,130,000,000 for the $3,937,000,000 increase in estimated government revenue since last January. Most of the remainder, Mr. Truman said, was "due to the rise of prices and national income."

Concerning claims of budget savings by the Republican-controlled congress, President Truman said $4,100,000,000 in recissions would result in a saving of only $153,000,000 in actual expenditures. He said virtually all the recissions comprised carry-over wartime appropriations and authorizations that would not have been used anyway.

He also said congress would have to make supplemental appropriations of more than $800,000,000 to offset some of its recent appropriation cuts. Money for tax refunds accounted for most of this, according to Mr. Truman's figures.

Wants Added Appropriations

President Truman also said he would ask for additional supplemental appropriations totaling $403,000,000 to cover some more military and navy public works, increases in social security aid to states and other items.

Total spending in fiscal 1948 would amount to $37,000,000,000 according to President Truman's present estimate. This would be only $528,000,000 less than his original estimate in January.

However, this does not mean that the Republicans succeeded in cutting expenses only $500,000,000. If congress had given the President all that he asked for, expenditures would total about $38,520,000,000.

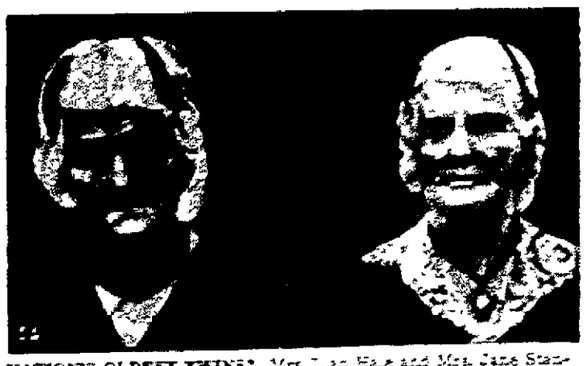
Twins Aim for Century Mark



NATION'S OLDEST TWINS? Mrs. Lucy Hale and Mrs. Jane Stanley. Their farmer lived to be 104 years old.

By The Associated Press

POUNDS, Va.—At 97, Jane Mullens Stanley and Mrs. Lucy Mullens Hale may be the nation's oldest farm sisters.

The aged mountain women are the daughters of Jack Mullens a legendary figure known in the Virginia-Kentucky border area as "Brandy Jack," who lived to be 104 years old. Brandy Jack's daughters, both widows, believe they, too, can pass the century mark.

Spry and active, they live on farms a few miles apart. Their years have been marked with little sickness. Mrs. Stanley—"Aunt Jane" to friends and relatives—hardly knows the taste of medicine.

"I never needed it," she said, "because I was never sick, to say really sick, in my life; only a few colds, and they are quite rare."

Mrs. Hale has "nothing whatever to complain about so far as health is concerned." She admits that she has "got on in one doctor in late years," but he looked "there wasn't much wrong."

"In my opinion, the worst thing in life is being lonely." Since Mrs. Hale's husband died some 12 years ago, she has had little adult company.

U.S. RABIES CONTROL COMMISSION URGED

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Aug. 21—Creation of a federal rabies control commission to halt what he called the "alarming increase" in the prevalence of the disease in this country was proposed today by Dr. Ernest S. Tierkel of Montgomery, Ala., before the American Veterinary Medical association.

Reported cases of rabies have passed the 10,000 mark yearly and are increasing, he said in reporting on studies of rabies vaccines under way.

He proposed field projects on a county or regional basis to evaluate various control methods such as mass immunization of dogs, impounding of strays, and quarantines. The goal, he said, should be an organized state-by-state drive coordinated by a federal commission.

In another paper, Dr. P. J. Brandly of Madison, Wis., blamed poultry meat and poultry products for approximately 20 per cent of the reported outbreaks of food poisoning in the United States.

Citing "salmonella pullorum" as one poultry disease which can be transmitted to man, he joined with Dr. Arthur H. Wolf of Lansing, Mich., in urging rigorous poultry inspection and further veterinary research.

$$$$$ $$$$$ $$$$$ $$$$$

AN OFFENSIVE of words and phrases is the fall-back action to which Democratic leaders have been driven by President Truman. Yesterday was no exception.

The country will not accept a large multi-billion total in budget reserves already plainly in the bag.

The thing to keep in mind about the President's lecture on federal finance and all lectures on that subject for a long time to come is that the spending of the United States is geared to inflation. The instant that federal income collected in inflated dollars begins to fall off because the air is being let out of inflation, the treasury will be in trouble. The big idea is to pay off as much of the national debt as possible in cheap money. Therefore, those who hope the Washington wonder workers soon will restore the purchasing power of dollars, instead of doing everything they can do to keep dollars cheap and make them cheaper, are wasting their time. That is the general picture of the federal budget. Mr. Truman didn't say anything about it, except by implication.

There are many interesting details about the general picture. Two of the most interesting are the politics involved and the psychology of the man in the White House. The President didn't mention these either.

Mr. Truman would rather have the Kansas City vote frauds explode in his face than admit his Local bacon was saved this year by Republican and Democratic congressmen who made themselves obnoxious to him by insisting on saving some money. In the end, of course, they saved only a whisper of what they'd been shouting about, but if they hadn't pared down the gross demands of the President in his January budget message we'd have been the victim of his own inability to keep things under control. Mr. Truman has to sniff and sneer at economy because the G.O.P. has adopted it as a talking point, but he probably mentions the economizers in his prayers every night.

He himself, like his predecessor, is a victim of hallelujahs. He can't see past the rows of ciphers that imprison chief executives. He has picked up the jargon of the reckless spenders of other peoples money— the old malarkey that nothing can be shaved down or cut back because to do so would wreck the government. Therefore everybody must work harder, make more money, pay more taxes so the government can spend and spend and elect and elect. Inflation must go up, up, up—retrenchment is out of the question—It's only money folks, so don't be scared—grab right up and pat the great whatizzit on the head and don't scream if it bares its teeth and looks like this—

Dust Storms Brewing

HIGH wheat prices may result in new dust bowl conditions in the plains states, according to the agricultural department. It reports 1,200,000 acres of virgin soil have been plowed in the last year, most of it in areas where annual rainfall is 18 inches or less, barely enough to raise wheat.

Much of the land is being planted by absentee landlords taking a chance on cashing in on two or three wheat crops before the next drouth hits the area. Few plan to live on the land and some never even see it, hiring contractors to do the sowing and harvesting.

When the next drouth hits the plains states and the wheat crop fails, the speculators will move out, leaving the land stripped of grass and exposed to the winds. That's the prospect the agriculture department says is developing. Will it take another era of dust storms, foreclosures and mass emigration to make us fully aware of the importance of soil conservation?

UMT's Hopes Fade

CONGRESSIONAL backers of universal military training see little chance of their proposal becoming law in 1948. With Senator Taft opposed and an election year coming up, UMT's prospects appear slim unless a major international crisis materializes. Proponents see so little chance of its passage they have called off organized efforts to push it through congress.

This is UMT's fate despite the fact every major public opinion poll showed substantial majorities in its favor and despite support by leading citizens in in many walks of life. Opponents maintain the polls weren't a true test of sentiment, that the questions were asked of people likely to favor the bill instead of large, representative groups.

So it appears UMT will die without ever having been tested. If fate should trust us into another crisis unprepared, it won't be difficult to fix the responsibility. That would be poor solace.

Did You Know

The number of people who eat in restaurants has more than doubled since 1940 and about 30 per cent of all food expenditures are spent in eating places.

Displaced persons of Europe received the 9,000,000 American Red Cross food parcels which were left over when the war ended.

A Western Candidate?

By RAYMOND MOLEY

California's Growth Aids Warren's Chances.

THE new census estimates of the population of the states have great political implications. They indicate how rapidly political power is moving westward in the United States.

California, according to recent figures of census estimators, is now third in population, with 10,600,000—an increase of 16.3 per cent. New York, with over 13,000,000, and Pennsylvania, with over 10,000,000, are larger than the Golden State. According to many census estimates by county committees and civic organizations, California will gain enough by the regular census in 1950 to pass Pennsylvania and rank second to New York.

That means will be the basis of new congressional apportionments and consequently, of delegate strength in national political conventions. California will have close to 35 congressmen and the vote changes in national conventions. It will have larger and larger representation on presidential electors. Federal grants and all other governmental expenditures for needs will command larger and larger pieces of the federal budget.

Gains in Other States

Understanding that western giants are the great gains in Washington and Oregon. Washington's population increased 15 per cent; Oregon's 22 per cent. This is particularly interesting in view of its overall gain in the United States, outside California. Washington and Oregon of only 2 per cent. New York, for instance, gained only 11 per cent and New Jersey, 14 per cent.

Texas, whose general character and interests are growing more and more western, is now sixth in population, nudging close behind Illinois and Ohio.

The growth of California will provide more and more reasons for the selection of presidential candidates from that state or from the west. One of the prominent reasons for selecting candidates since the Civil war has been the proven capacity of certain political leaders to carry large and pivotal eastern and mid-western states in an election. That is why New York and Ohio have set almost a monopoly on candidates and presidents for so many years.

California will challenge that monopoly in the future. Its large bloc of electoral votes will be important. And it has shown a remarkable capacity to swing from one party to another.

How It Figures Out

Friends of Governor Warren of California are already saying that the right of this situation points up his availability in 1948. His bloc of delegates will be much smaller than New York's Dewey group. But other western states, notably Oregon and Washington, will be favorable to Warren.

Warren, therefore, can by no means be discounted as a possible Republican nominee. He has made no effort to gain support, and his friends are convinced that the mention of his name among other possibilities is not harmful to him.

One fact is especially notable, and eastern and mid-western candidates should not overlook it. Warren's friends, and probably Warren himself strongly resent patronizing efforts to enlist California support for this or that candidate, with the implication that such support can be purchased with a vice presidential nomination or a cabinet post. Californians can read census figures and do not propose to have their state provide a tail for anyone's kite.

You're Worth More If Only in a Test-Tube

Once valued at only 98 cents, the components of the human body are worth $21.04 on today's market, according to recent computations by chemists at Northwestern university.

The average body, that is. Some citizens would naturally bring more on account of the current high price of alcohol.

Varying metallic content, too, would result naturally in different appraisals. Consider the number of citizens with cadmium stomachs and hearts of gold or, for that matter, with lead in the seat of their pants.

Elliott Roosevelt, for instance, should bring a fancy price . . . . or isn't there a market for that kind of brass?

Incidentally, this human inflation is something new, except as pertains to the ego.

Still, with prices going up all around him, the average citizen can take some consolation in the thought that he, too, is worth more these days . . . even though it doesn't show on his bank statement.

New Careers Open

By The Associated Press

BERLIN—With the prospects good for a long occupation of Germany, a new type of career has opened for young American college graduates as officials in the Office of Military Government for Germany.

The war department is offering military government training to 100 especially-qualified college men, preferably World War II veterans. Twenty-four of the candidates have already started their year's "internship" and another 76 are expected to arrive in the near future.

Contempt of Congress

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

THE essence of statism is government by bureaucracy. An elite group, having possessed itself of power by one means or another, governs according to its will and its judgment on the general principle that those who are qualified know what is best for everybody. They set up their own qualifications and declare themselves as fitting all requirements. They have no doubts as to their own perfection.

Essentially, this concept is not new. Pythagoras and Plato held it and every so-called benevolent despot assumed it. Dr. Sun Yat-Sen, for instance, conceived of the Kuomintang as holding the Chinese people in tutelage until such a time as they could govern themselves. Such a time has not yet arrived 22 years after his death. The Communist party in Russia maintains an oligarchical despotism with the object of eventually establishing a democracy. Even in the United States, many of the younger New Dealers, particularly those fresh out of college, where they majored in government, believed they were not qualified, by a Phi Beta Kappa key or something, to decide the course of their country than were members of congress elected by the people.

The American Idea

Yet, the essence of the American system is representative government. Those who wrote the Constitution made no rigid qualifications as to the representatives. They could be lawyers, doctors, clergymen, shoemakers, philosophers, prominentists, drunkards. They might be broad-minded or bigoted; they could be of any political party, religious denomination, social condition or economic status. The Constitution avoids such qualifications because the objective of the system is that the people shall choose such representatives for themselves as they please.

During the last decade, a pronounced and determined effort has been made to heap ridicule upon the congress of the United States and to bring it into contempt. The general technique is to generalize from the particular, to select some grotesque or unpopular member, one whose personal conduct lends itself to abuse, and then to attempt to create the impression that the congress is no good because it is all like that. Many, who are opposed to totalitarianism, have fallen for this technique and have permitted themselves to become parties of it. Vested interests in danger seize upon this propaganda to aid their special purposes.

Analysis of Claghorn

I, myself, have roared with laughter at "Senator Claghorn" on the radio. Admittedly, he is funny. But Claghorn, as a theatrical character, has brought upon congress an unwarranted ridicule. Never once has Claghorn been anything but ridiculous; never once has he been kindly, understanding, of service to his country. He has been an unmitigated blowhard instead of a hard-working legislator with a tendency to speak loudly and punctuate aggressively. He has talked stupidly, but never is he the author of important legislation. Claghorn is not a cartoon of any man in the United States senate; he is a burlesque of the legislative process.

This ridicule of congress reached its apogee in the Barsky-Dennis-Eisler hearings. These men held a committee of congress in contempt because they objected to one member of it. In a word, not the citizens in their districts are to determine who is to represent them, but a group of New Yorkers are to decide who is fit to serve, and if the American voter decides differently, the New Yorkers may ignore congress when it rejects their obiter dicta. Similarly in the Howard Hughes matter, capitalistic public relations counsel turned what should have been an orderly hearing into a raucous circus, packing the committee halls, giving out teasing stories unrelated to committee intentions. It may have been smart but it was contemptuous, and what makes it even more unfortunate, they knew not what they did. For the boomerang is obvious; an investigation into how such operations are arranged, organized and paid for. This must come sooner or later.

The point is that congress must be protected and preserved. It is the most orderly system of government in which human freedom is possible. It is costly and wasteful of time—but we are not slaves. That is the point.

HOBBLING THE OLD GIRL

From News of Other Years

Ten Years Ago

It was Saturday, Aug. 21, 1937.

C. P. Harrison, secretary and treasurer of the Marion Coca-Cola Bottling Co., announced plans for construction of a $30,000 bottling plant at North Main and George streets.

City Clerk Harry Brookshire reported that within a few days he had issued 15 building permits calling for construction valued at $8,535. One permit was for an East Center street duplex to cost $4,600.

Harold Cobb, manager of Marion airport, announced complete plans for a program of aerial entertainment at the port on Sunday.

Rain brought relief from a week-long heat wave. The temperature remained below the 90-degree mark for the first time in a week.

Burglars at the Moores and Ross milk plant broke open a window, forced two doors and knocked the combination from a safe, but failed to get the strongbox open.

Twenty Years Ago

It was Sunday, Aug. 21, 1927

Sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rasey of Windsor street and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Blynn of Leader street and a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wiant of Walnut street.

The Kenton Reds, leaders in a series of baseball games to determine the championship of Hardin, Marion and Union counties strengthened their lead when they shutout Richwood, 4-0, at Idlewild park. Hartbcock pitched for Kenton and Lawrence for Richwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Weston entertained at a 6 o'clock dinner at their home in Green Camp celebrating their fifth wedding anniversary and the birthday anniversary of Mrs. William Riley.

The Eisenhower Entry

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21—General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower has just returned to Washington from his summer vacation inspection trip. Besides the gigantic problems of American security in a troubled world, he has found waiting for him at the Capital another problem of a more personal nature. This is the problem of the Eisenhower presidential candidacy.

Whether the general likes it or not—and he has given every indication that he dislikes it intensely—his presidential prospects now constitute a very solid problem indeed. A new phase began with the announcement that Eisenhower would become president of Columbia university in January, which at least made him technically available. Since then, signs have been accumulating of another of those rather sheep-like stampedes which are customary among the rich men who back presidential hopefuls.

These denizens of the New York and other financial districts are, in most cases, rather like uninformed but enthusiastic bettors on horse races. They want to pick the winner. Each new rumor flying round the track sends them crowding to the betting windows to get their money down on Eisenhower. The only question is whether this superb entry, generally conceded to be the equal of any other animal in the Republican sweepstakes, will run at all.

Just Peeps Into Future

In the last analysis, the answer to this vital question depends upon two rather mysterious quantities—General Eisenhower himself and the situation in Kansas. The Eisenhower candidacy would now be full-fledged. If there were adequate foundation for the reports that the Kansas delegation has been committed to the general under the leadership of the exceedingly astute Roy Roberts, of "The Kansas City Star." But these reports are distinctly peeps into a future which has not yet materialized.

There is no doubt that Eisenhower sentiment is strong in Kansas, or that this strength will survive his becoming a New York resident. By the end of the war, of course, Eisenhower had been away from his native place for a long time. On his return, however, Kansas' greeting to Eisenhower was organized by Roy Roberts and other leading men. In the course of the celebrations, they saw much of him, and all were deeply impressed. This was the beginning of Roberts's preference for an Eisenhower candidacy. Since that time, moreover, the general's able brother, Milton Eisenhower, who is rumored far more ambitious for the general than the general is himself, has become a leading Kansas figure as head of the State Agricultural college.

On the other hand, as of today, Kansas is emphatically not organized for Eisenhower. The most powerful of the state's professional politicians is the steel fabricator, Harry Darby, who is also Republican national committeeman. Darby is a Thomas E. Dewey man thus far, and is even expected to be one of the New York governor's western managers.

Fight Against Capper

A contest for the Senatorship is also on foot between former Governor Andrew Schoeppel and the incumbent, the aging Arthur Capper. Capper has at last begun to lose his famous acrobatic talent for keeping both ears to the ground at once. Schoeppel is supported by Darby and is expected to defeat Capper. Consequently, by all the rules, Schoeppel will also work with Darby in shaping up the state delegation to the Republican convention.

There remains the Republican party's 1936 nominee, former Governor Alf M. Landon, whose trailing clouds of former glory have begun to thin out to mere wisps. Schoeppel and Landon are at odds. Possibly he resents Darby's power with the state organization. Landon cannot deliver the state, yet the rumors of "Kansas for Eisenhower" seem to originate in Landon's perambulations of the East.

None the less the rumors could begin to become realities tomorrow if Roy Roberts really decided to charge into the fray on behalf of his champion. The political leaders of both Kansas and Missouri have confidence in Mr. Roberts, and are healthily aware that they have got to live with him and his very considerable influence. Darby may be for Dewey now, but Kansas is likely to be for Eisenhower in the end if Roberts so desires. If that occurs, the threat to Governor Thomas E. Dewey will be very grim indeed. Dewey is almost certain to have to win the Republican nomination on second ballot switches. If Eisenhower has a solid base in Kansas, and an active organizer in Roberts, the second ballot switches are equally likely—perhaps more likely—to go to Eisenhower.

Roberts has let it be known that he will do nothing to "embarrass" his friend. The fact that he has remained passive to date is the clearest proof of the sincerity of what Eisenhower has said on the subject of his candidacy. It should also be taken as a warning by the money bettors. As to what may occur in the future, however, none can foretell, except that whatever Eisenhower does will be consistent with a character of high integrity and patriotism.

Daily Bible Thought

If you don't want to slip backward you must strive to go forward: "Watch and pray lest ye enter into temptation."—Matt. 26:41.

CROSSTOWN By Roland Coe

"Mom said I should tell you about the trouble I got into today—but you know how I exaggerate everything."

Pitching Horseshoe

By BILLY ROSE

THE other day I was in a deep study—as I use when starting dictating the [illegible] story. My secretary announced a young man with a letter of introduction from an old friend. "She says she's a writer and wants some advice," my secretary added.

"Fine," I said. "Have her wait." I [illegible] on a scratch pad, stubbed out my cigar in a mastodon and settled back in a relaxed pose, the Author Among His Books pose, as I commanded.

In walked a spectacled version of Jane Russell. Like all young writers in the presence of Master, she knocked over three tables [illegible] the door.

"Mr. Rose," she began.

"Call me Somerset," I cut in.

"Somerset," she corrected herself. "I want to write. My parents keep telling me all I have to do is go to a typewriter and put words on paper. But the failure I know that one is the dangerously. To write, they say, one must drink deep of the cup of life. My uncle suggested I ought to talk to you about it."

I put another match to the mastodon, refused to stay lit. "What kind of writing do you want to do?" I asked.

"Oh, a book with depth and significance," she answered. "Like Forever Amber."

I got it. Obviously her uncle wanted me to take her into giving advice to anybody now that I'm too old to get a [illegible] caught in getting good advice. I went into my monologue like an old ventriloquist.

"My dear child," I said, "write about life as it really happens, and you'll [illegible] walls with rejection slips. It's too immoral, too unrestrained and unbridled. For instance, Egypt may discovered a boy who was [illegible] by a pack of gazelles. He eats grass and [illegible] 55 miles an hour. Submit that as fiction to an editor and he'll drop you down the [illegible] shaft.

"And how about the Indian Maharajah who climbed on the funeral pyre when the fire got hot and for 13 years tried to prove he was alive. He finally was believed and restored to the throne—and then died the next week. Try selling that to True Story Magazine."

"And don't tell me the incredible only happens in faraway places. The other day a 3-year-old boy, blind from birth, had his sight restored by an operation. When they took the bandages off the youngster saw his mother for the first time and said, 'Gee, you're pretty!' Put that kind of sentiment on a stage and the critics will throw you out of town."

She broke in. "But you don't understand. I want to write about romance. The love affairs of real people aren't stranger than fiction."

"In a pig's eye," I retorted elegantly. "Let me tell you a true story that makes Cinderella and the Prince seem commonplace. In San Francisco a few years ago there was a lazy [illegible] named Jack. She specialized in painting chrome [illegible]. One day she fell in love with another [illegible] named Jack. His specialty was painting flagpoles on [illegible] of office buildings. They married and were very happy. They made a handsome couple riding side by side in the clouds and painting [illegible] brushes like crazy.

"ONE day the lady took a bad fall. She was in her bathtub and suffered a permanent injury. When she recovered, she refused to see her spouse on the steeples. But the old [illegible] was gone. She was nervous, uncertain. The doctors had gone out of the work. On two occasions [illegible] the ready arm of her husband kept her from plunging to the pavement, hundreds of feet below. Doctors said there was nothing wrong with her—it was all mental. Her husband pondered the problem for weeks, and then [illegible] sensitive heart came the solution. He engaged a plumber to rip out the bathtub and replace it with a shower. And they've been painting happily ever since."

The phone rang and my secretary announced the next caller. I took my friend's niece to the door and let go with a parting shot. "Katherine Winsor recently said if she had done all the things she told about in 'Forever Amber,' she never would have had time to write it."

The powderpuff Hemingway smiled a [illegible] bye. "Well anyhow, it's nice work if you can get it," she said, and went out to keep her [illegible] nervous with Life.

The American Scene

By TRUMAN TWILL

A friend of ours—a slatty apparition with heron legs, a turkey neck, shoulders like a starveling and a general appearance that makes Milquetoast look like a dock-walloper by comparison—has been defending his tennis shorts.

He doesn't wear them to play tennis. Doesn't say is his game. He wears them to be comfortable in after work. When we heard about this we wanted to know how he justified tennis shorts.

"They are cool, practical, comfortable for tennis players wear them," he said, brushing his hair like an old nail brush. "They are nobody's business but mine. Furthermore, if I don't want to wear anything, who'll stop me?"

After clearing up that point, we pressed him for more grim details about the shorts. For instance, what did he wear with them, such as a bathrobe?

"I wear only a shirt and a pair of slops," he explained. "I do not think it is proper to go barefoot and shirtless. Even as it is, a few screams occasionally, or a stray dog passing through the neighborhood may bay for a few minutes. However, now that I have broken the ice, so to speak, one of my neighbors is going to buy a pair of shorts."

About the neighbor—what does he look like?

"Why the neighbor," said Slatsie, "is a human with a hairy skin, bowed legs, arms like an ape and a prominent pot-belly."

We shuddered and suggested that a man with a little more consideration to his fellowmen ought to appear in public in costumes that reveal human beings for what they are. Perhaps it is as inconsiderate as for fat women to wear slacks and let the devil take the...whos, this family newspaper.

"Yes," he said, thoughtfully. "I see what you mean. The first day I wore my tennis shorts I looked at myself in the mirror. I never looked again. Think how my poor, dear wife must be suffering. I will not let her wear slacks, and probably is waiting for me to see the light about the shorts, the way she did with the yellow cap. She felt sure, she told me, that some day I would realize how ugly that cap was. I'll have had the cap 23 years this coming October.

"You are right. I should think of others. I will not make the American scene any uglier than it needs to be. I am grateful to you for reminding me that my comfort is not the only thing to think about. Come to see me any time."

Last night we went to see Slatsie. He was talking to his neighbor. Both were in shorts. A more horrible a thing as one ever would see, on the bathing beach. As we drove up, both specimens removed their shirts. They kicked off their shoes. We shuddered and drove on. Mankind being emancipated from summer clothing, the world will pay a high price for their freedom.

NEW YORK—James Moncado, 24, was sitting in his real estate office when two bandits entered and one produced a pistol.

"I'll take your money, pal," said the man with the gun.

"Don't be silly," Moncado said.

"We ain't," said the younger man, slugging Moncado on the chin.

The man with the gun then took $800 from Moncado's wallet and they left.

Severely Disabled Vet Trainees Get Pay Hike

Automatic increases will be paid effective Sept. 1 in the minimum allowances received by the more seriously disabled veterans enrolled in educational and training courses under government sponsorship.

The increased rates, which will be reflected in September checks received on or after October 1, were voted by the last session of Congress and signed into law by the President.

VA said the law requires no action on the part of the disabled trainees entitled to the higher rates because of the automatic nature of the increases.

The new law provides that a veteran enrolled in a course under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act (Public Law 16), whose disability is rated at 30 per cent or higher, will receive $115 a month if he has no dependents, and $135 if he has one dependent.

The old law allowed $105 and $115 for the same two categories; but, while these rates are superseded by the new schedules for the more seriously disabled, they will continue to apply to veterans with disabilities rated at less than 30 per cent.

The new law also raises the amounts authorized for additional dependents of veterans with disabilities of 30 per cent or more. The additional allowance for one child is increased from $10 a month to $20, and the previous allowance of $7 a month for each additional child is raised to $15. No change is made in the $15 monthly allowance for a dependent parent.

Deficiency Diseases

ANY farmer knows that good crops cannot be grown in poor soil. Not so many, however, seem to realize that people eating food grown in worn-out fields will be robbed of health and vigor.

This is an important problem today because much evidence is accumulating to show that deficiency diseases are on the increase. A deficiency disease is a disorder due to lack of something in the body. This includes such disorders as goitre, due to lack of iodine, vitamin deficiencies, and anemia, due to lack of iron-containing foods in the diet.

Drs. P .H. DeHart and Rufus M. DeHart of Virginia believe that many of the diseases are directly due to the eating of vegetables grown in soil which is deficient in minerals needed for proper development of both man and plants. They point out that deficiency diseases are showing up more and more frequently in plants and warn that it may require a national disaster to shock us into the realization that a people can be no more vigorous than the soil on which they live.

When the minerals in the soil are lacking, the plants grown in the soil will also be deficient, thus men and animals who eat these foods will also suffer from a lack of the minerals. Therefore, poor soils which are lacking in minerals and other substances necessary to sustain life have a direct relation to the health and vigor of the nation.

People may eat plenty of food and still starve if at the same time this food does not supply the necessary food parts.

Dr. DeHart points out that in certain sections of the country, hospital records show a great increase in thyroid and gland disorders, vitamin deficiencies, nervous disturbances, sterility and other diseases.

They also state that there are many abnormal conditions or plants due to deficiencies such as chlorosis of tomatoes, due to a deficiency of magnesium.

Every few years, new chemical agents are found to be necessary for plant growth. Magnesium, boron and zinc were found to be needed for plant growth fully twenty years before they became generally utilized.

In animals, it has been noted that the birth of hairless pigs has been caused by feeding sows on a diet low in iodine. The lack of manganese in the diet produces inability to secrete breast milk.

Of course, when deficiency diseases appear in human beings, they can be treated by giving them capsules supplying vitamins and minerals. Then, too, the soil can be replenished by the use of various types of fertilizer. It is hoped that these various facts about the relation of the mineral content of the soil to the well-being of the people who live on the soil will be more generally recognized.

We need to be on the alert for the first signs of soil deficiency. There are troublous times and if we, as a nation, are to meet them successfully, we must maintain our national health and vigor.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

N. N.: Will you please tell me something about coronary thrombosis? Will it ever get better?

Answer: Coronary thrombosis means that the coronary arteries which supply the heart muscle with blood have been blocked.

This disorder usually comes on suddenly. It may result fatally at once or it may cause an attack of unconsciousness or severe pain, after which the person so afflicted gradually recovers. Just why the arteries harden is not known; overwork and overstrain may be contributing causes. After one recovers from the original attack, he may live a long life if he follows his doctor's advice as to proper living.

anxiety, and that there will be no damage to property.

The company manufactures automotive telephone equipment and employs about 1,000 people in Galion. Plants are also maintained by the company at Mt. Gilead and Kenton, and employees of the Galion plant volunteered to go to these cities to urge employes there to show unity in an effort to extend the desired collective bargaining contract to all company units.

Employes took a strike vote of secret ballot on Aug. 4 and in favored a demand for immediate recognition of Local 756 as bargaining agent in securing plants of the Galion plant, the UAW representative said. The strike has been authorized by the international executive board, with Richard Gosser, director of Region 2B and a member of the international executive board.

Election Request Made

The union asked the company for a consent election to determine the collective bargaining agent for employes and when an agreement was reached in a conference Tuesday afternoon, from 1:30 to 2:45, the company was given 24 hours to agree to the election or face prospect of a strike and so far as of the plant, the UAW said. Since the company has not agreed to an election, the UAW called a meeting of the night shift for 5 p. m. Wednesday and of the day shift for 3:30 p. m. in the Memorial hall, before the vote was taken.

At the conference Tuesday were Robert E. McBerty, company vice president, John Irving of Cleveland, labor examiner for the NLRB, James E. Garfield and Robert H. Clemens of Cleveland, attorneys for the company, Robert J. Duda and William Dalton, representatives of Local 756, and members of the plant shop committee. William Sprague, Donald Smith, Delores Wise and Harold Wren. Other shop committee members are Preston Rush, E. L. Henry and Bernard Arms.

Employes were told at the meeting of workers Wednesday that the company "flatly refuses to agree to an election for bargaining agent."

It is also understood that company officials have insisted that Local 756 UAW-CIO international representative, Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, AFL, be included in the election. That union signed an agreement with the company in March, 1946, when a five-cent increase was received. UAW claims membership of 57 per cent now.

Used Fats Are Still Badly Needed!

Says the Food Editor of McCall's, HELEN McCULLY

So many women write to our magazine and ask if they should keep turning in their used cooking fats. Most certainly yes! There is still a shortage—not only in the United States but all over the world. Here is what Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson says: "It is still necessary to conserve every pound of used fat, since the over-all fat supply situation is little better now than it was last year." That's why we American women must keep on saving used fats until the world-wide shortage is over!

"No Contracts Required"

"The labor-management relations act does not compel the signing of contracts and refraining from doing so is not a violation or evasion of the law, it will be our policy to refrain from signing contracts in order that we avoid agreeing or seeming to agree or voluntarily accepting the conditions created by such a relationship under the labor-management relations act of 1947.

"Even the T-H law provides that:

"Nothing in this act shall be so construed to require an individual employe to render labor or service without his consent, nor shall anything in this act be construed to make the quitting of his labor by an individual employe an illegal act.

"Upon the expiration of existing contracts and until the laws above referred to are amended and free collective bargaining is again recognized, our members may accept employment only from employers who are willing to employ them on "conditions of employment" which the several unions adopt after approval by the executive council of the ITU.

"60 Days Notice"

"Our unions will give 60 days' notice before an existing contract may be changed or terminated. They will notify state and federal conciliation agencies simultaneously 30 days after the original notice.

"They will engage in collective bargaining to the extent recognized by law, bearing in mind that the legal obligation of a 'labor organization' under the LMRA to 'bargain collectively' meet and confer in good faith with reference to wages, hours and so forth expressly provides as follows:

"But such obligation does not compel either party to agree to a proposal or require the making of a concession.

"A 'conditions of employment' form, which must be used by all unions and which is uniform except for local scales and practices, has been printed for the convenience and use of all subordinate unions, wherein is set out the conditions under which our members offer their services—so long as they are individually able and willing to work.

"It is our policy that local unions do not seek to qualify as representatives under the LMRA, except in special cases after careful analysis and approval by the executive council, and that they do not seek to execute so-called 'union shop' contracts. The process provided by the LMRA for that type of contract is too lengthy and cumbersome and there are features of such a 'union shop' that are unacceptable to our members. Neither may our unions enter into 'no strike' agreements or contracts of any kind without approval of the executive council.

"Will File Affidavits"

"The ITU and its local unions and their officers will file any financial reports and affidavits required by law.

"Local unions should not file any unfair labor practice charges or petitions for investigation or representation, without first consulting the president of the ITU and obtaining approval of the executive council.

"We realize that this policy may bring some disappointment to our employers because it provides for unilateral action. However, since a key point of it is to refrain from making a labor contract, it may be possible for employers, who do not approve the policy, to prepare a unilateral set of satisfactory conditions of employment.

"The executive council is hereby authorized to interpret, construe and enforce the above policy from Aug. 22, 1947."

Let's Wake Up Rip Van Winkle!

Millions of bushels of food may rot in our fields this harvest time, instead of being available to the markets of the world — because of our shortage of freight cars. Here is a way that thousands of cars can be freed for service — in a hurry.

ARE you interested in the price of food? Does it give you a twinge to see those pictures of mountains of wheat piled on the ground and potatoes going to rot—when there's a desperate world food crisis?

The bottle-neck is our freight-car shortage. But thousands of cars could be freed by a single decision—if old-line railroad managements would act.

Don't Blame the War!

This is hard to believe, but it's true: we have today only three-fourths as many freight cars in our country as we had twenty years ago. This shrunken fleet is now called on to handle the greatest peacetime traffic in history. And the war itself is not to blame for the shortage—for in no single year from 1925 to the start of hostilities did the railroad industry buy as many cars as it junked. Twenty years is a long time for even Rip Van Winkle to sleep!

What Can Be Done?

There is at least one remedy that can be applied at once—despite the steel shortage and other difficulties in car-building. This remedy requires no new equipment, no period of time to work out—nothing but an act of management:

Lift what appear to be agreements between railroads that deliberately slow down many freight trains!

Here is an example. There are eight important schedule routes by which you can ship "fast" freight from California to Chicago. These routes vary in length as much as 450 miles. But, curiously, the time schedule for each of the eight is exactly 118 hours—and 30 minutes!

Similarly, scheduled freight trains moving west over the important routes from Chicago to the Coast areas, despite great differences in terrain and mileage, take exactly 180 hours—to the nose!

Is This Free Competition?

Could it be that these schedules are fixed by agreement? That the trains which could be [illegible] instead are held back for the slowest—so that no road can have even the slightest competitive advantage?

Railroad men know that, in many instances, a whole day could be cut off these schedules between California and Chicago—if management would simply order it. If that were done, on those roads and on others, it would ease the national car shortage at once!

There is good reason to believe that by lifting deliberate freight slowdowns, on the roads that still practice them, we could provide more cars for everyone and fill them our shippers are presently loaded. And, at this critical time, every car that can be found for service is [illegible]

Are old-line managements asleep while freight trains creep at a snail's pace — by agreement?

A Call For Action!

The next few weeks will be the most important time in our food problem. Our whole crop is estimated to exceed any previous record by 500 million bushels. It is even now being piled in the fields—for want of cars.

If you feel as strongly about this as the C&O does, write to your newspaper and your congressman. Do it today while it is on your mind.

And then to stir up Rip Van Winkle—and tell him time is short. Demand that our trains be scheduled not merely to suit the private desire of the railroads, but so that we can make the best use, for the whole public, of our enormously expensive stock of railroad [illegible]

C. OF C. COMMITTEE RECEIVES REPORTS

Public Health, Hospital Questions Discussed.

Reports on activities of various sub-committees were given by committee chairmen when the civic affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce met Wednesday at Hotel Harding. The chairman, Henry Kingdom, presided.

The building code, Earl Andrews reported, is now in the hands of Robert Pennebaker for retraining. W. H. Goodwin, chairman of public health study, state that the city board of health has requested some $17,000 of the budget commission for operation expenses next year. If this amount is received, he said, the board expects to expand its services.

Charles Sherer, chairman of the hospital management study committee, presented a report of the committee's six months' study and contact with 11 hospital managements within a 100-mile radius of Marion. A discussion by Mr. Sherer, Mr. Kingdom, Dr. J. W. Bull and Dr. Frederick T. Merchant followed, after which it was decided to refer the report to the Chamber of Commerce board of directors for further action.

Under the civic planning committee report, J. E. Oliphant announced that the Greyhound Bus Co. is attempting to locate a new terminus in the city, and Charles Buente, chairman of park beautification and utilization reported that considerable improvements have been made in the park service and conditions this year.

Britons Face Cut in Rations

New Dollar-Hoarding Move Acknowledged as Likely To Intensify Shortages.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Aug. 21 — Britons faced the threat today of further shortages in food and other vital imports as the result of a government decision temporarily suspending the convertibility of pounds sterling into dollars.

Hugh Dalton, chancellor of the exchequer, warned of the impending new shortages last night in announcing the new financial arrangement, intended to conserve Britain's dwindling dollar reserves. The scheme was effective last midnight.

Dalton said the move stemmed from Washington talks on revision of terms of the $3,750,000,000 United States loan to Britain.

Loan Has Dwindled

His figures indicated that this loan, granted in July, 1946, had dwindled to $755,000,000 this week, because of heavy British withdrawals.

Later a treasury spokesman reported that Britain had applied to withdraw another $450,000,000. This would leave a balance of only $305,000,000.

In outlining the new financial scheme Dalton said business men selling goods to this country for pounds no longer would have the right to trade those pounds for dollars.

"Our decision will inevitably cause disturbance of trade over a wide area, and may lead to some interruption of supplies," he declared.

"We shall have to face some further shortages of overseas supplies . . . There will probably have to be some reductions in our rations."

"Sterling will still be able to be exchanged freely into many other currencies," Dalton said.

Urges British To Save

Dalton urged the people to keep steady, work hard and regularly, save all you can, realize that we are in this fight together."

British treasury experts said the new move would mean less food and clothing for their countrymen.

It would be the 13th day this month that the mercury has climbed to 90 or higher. The present record for the month is 12 days, the records show.

FIND NO BIRTH A-BOMB TOLL

Scientists Report No Evidence at Hiroshima of Abnormal Infants.

By WILLIAM WIDDER
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK—A two-year scientific study of the survivors of the atom-bombing of Hiroshima has betrayed NO evidence that mutations (source or misspelling unknown) have been produced by the bomb radiation.

Data from over 150,000 Japanese who were in or near the Hiroshima area have been systematically collected, culled and analyzed. The report on the radiation effects of the first atom attack in history, gave no bona fide indication that children born in the blast areas are or will become "different."

There have been reports of the birth of abnormal or "hybrid" infants: stories of children born armless, legless, or without features. But these remain stories—hysterical fictions—directly contrary to any fact thus far uncovered by teams of investigators.

Few Mutations Born

Observers in Japan believe that at least a few mutant children have been born since the atoming of Hiroshima. But they explain that a certain incident of "odd" babies is to be expected in any city—New York or Hiroshima—and that the "monsters," such as they are, have no identifiable relation to the atom bomb.

An epitome of the findings of one scientific commission in Hiroshima recently was published in the Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists. Its author, Dr. Austin Brues, is the director of the biology division of the Argonne National Laboratory (the first atom development in the United States).

He pointed out that while there are no evident symptoms of biological twists and sub-human offspring, the truth about radiation influences on genes may not become explicit for some time. Changes in physical characteristics, he explained, may be exceedingly small. Such changes, he added "could probably not be detected at all without reference to a Japanese population existing under comparable conditions of nutrition and other attritional effects of the war."

It is significant, however, that some of the world's leading geneticists have expressed beliefs that the human race may go down in decay due to the destruction of reproductive genes by atom bomb radiation.

Early in May, Dr. Hermann Muller of Indiana university and a Nobel prize winner, warned of the possible evolution of evil-doing monsters resulting from the Japanese exposed to radioactivity at Hiroshima and Nagasaki. He said that most mutants are harmful and that an atomic war could produce them in almost countless numbers.

Apart from the inquiry into genetic shifts through radiation, scientists have been charting a pattern of general atomic injuries. Injuries sustained by the victims of Hiroshima have been divided into three specific causes: thermal (or heat), mechanical, and radiation energy. Due to the number of injuries suffered by any one individual, or the complex effects of a single injury, researchists have found it almost impossible to trace the symtoms back to any single one of the three causes.

Investigators have been able—through previous laboratory experiments — to identify the characteristic effects of radiation damage. These include loss of hair, rotted finger nails, extreme depression of white blood cells, and sub-surface bleeding or hemorrhages. A severe anemia follows these first derangements.

Most of the males suffering from radiation burns have been found to be sterile. But observation over a long period has given fairly conclusive evidence that the sterility is only a temporary condition. All males in a selected experimental group recovered their reproductive capacities.

Tax Questions Taken Up by C. of C. Group

Commentary by the Ohio Chamber of Commerce on its study of Marion county and city tax budgets was discussed and generally approved when the taxation committee of the Marion Chamber of Commerce met Monday afternoon. E. L. Cleveland, chairman, presided.

A change in tax laws made by the Ohio legislature at its last session was reviewed and a report was made that a study of local tax situation indicated a much higher personal tax return could be expected this year.

UNION COMPLAINTS MAY BE WIPED OFF BOOKS

Taft-Hartley Law's Dawning Likely to End 3,000 Suits.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21—Many unions today face the prospect that their pending complaints against employers will be wiped off the government's books under provisions of the Taft-Hartley act effective at midnight.

Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the national labor relations board, said more than 3,000 back cases in NLRB field offices, including all union petitions for plant elections, will be dismissed unless the unions register and file non-Communist affidavits under the new law within 20 days.

Today is the final day of the Wagner act as it has existed for 12 years.

Tomorrow, labor and management will be, under a new and thoroughly revised Wagner act. For one thing, unions will be subject to charges of "unfair labor practices" for the first time.

This revision of the Wagner act is the most important part of the Taft-Hartley law which congress enacted over President Truman's veto on June 23.

27,000 Reported In Attendance at New Isaly Plant Opening

More than 27,000 persons, young and old, consumed a total of 23,383 gallons ice cream cones yesterday at the day-long program formally opening the new Isaly Dairy plant and retail store on East Center street, it was estimated today by company officials, who were hosts to one of the largest crowds ever in attendance at a "housewarming" for a local business establishment.

The thousands of guests, ranging from an infant two weeks old to a woman of 92, were shown about the new plant by 72 sales clerks who furnished information about operation and construction of the plant. The management brought in clerks from company stores in Mansfield, Youngstown, Columbus and Pittsburgh to help scoop out the 1,500 gallons of free ice cream consumed by the visitors.

Tours of the plant were conducted by about 30 Isaly products salesmen beginning after the formal opening ceremonies were concluded in the morning. Tours continued until after 11 p. m. last night and at various times lines of persons waiting to go through or enroute through the plant extended from the curb clear through to the ice cream parlor in the rear.

Angelo Doria, who has seen six years' service with the Isaly plant at Pittsburgh, is manager of the new store.

Economic Independence of Americas Demanded

By The Associated Press

QUITANDINHA, BRAZIL, Aug. 21—Cuba formally presented to the inter-American defense conference today a demand for joint hemisphere action to protect what it called "the economic independence" of American states.

Guillermo Belt, Cuban ambassador to Washington and aspirant to his country's presidency, told the committee on aggression that "it is impossible to conceive of political independence unless a state also has economic independence."

The presentation of the Cuban demand came after the apparent failure of a series of "coffee table conferences" arranged by conference President Paul Fernandes, the Brazilian foreign minister, in an effort to avert an almost certain controversy between the United States and Cuba.

The island republic's stand was against what it called "economic aggression" or "unilateral economic acts and threats."

STEEL PROBE ASKED AS GM SHUTS DOWN

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Aug. 21 — General Motors Corporation's plan to resume production because of a reported steel shortage brought a demand for a governmental probe of the steel situation today from CIO United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther.

Hours after GM President Charles Wilson announced the big automobile manufacturer would close its plants and curtail schedules in others during the last week in August or the first week of September, Reuther disclosed he sent a letter to President Truman, asking an investigation of what he called the steel industry's "restriction of production and production capacity."

Charging "steel monopolists" with "turning a straight jacket on the whole American economy," the union chief reiterated his often-repeated statement that the industry has been responsible for unnecessary restriction of production.

GM's shutdown will affect Chevrolet and Pontiac production. Wilson's statement said that Pontiac division workers will be from Friday night until Sept.

Buick, Oldsmobile, Cadillac and GM truck and coach plants will not be closed," Wilson said. A total of 70,200 GM workers will be affected by the shutdowns.

Meanwhile the Ford Motor Co. and Studebaker Corp. made plans for early resumption of full production following settlement of the UAW-CIO's long strike against Murray Corp. of America.

Love Story Goes On but Leading Lady Is New

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK — Two important things happened to Mark Evans, a young mining engineer, during the long, lonely winter he spent alone in the Canadian wilderness.

He found a vein of gold ore of fabulous promise. And he fell in love with Kathleen McDingle.

While his miner's pick uncovered the yellow metal he had come a second for, he dreamed days of ... were ... even ... he would be able to sell his discovery for at least a million dollars.

At night when the wind beat against the tight-closed door of the old abandoned cabin he had made habitable, he would stretch out in front of his log fire and dream of what he would do with his riches.

Hal Boyle

He would travel, yes—see all the strange cities he had read of in his lonesome boyhood. He had been poor and lonely all his life. Now he could change all that.

Discovers Girl's Picture

It was then that Kathleen McDingle came into his life in an odd way. While cleaning debris from a shelf over his bunk he found a scrap of newspaper apparently torn from the society section.

It showed the face of a beautiful, sensitive girl with dark hair that hung to her shoulders.

The caption beneath the picture said she was Kathleen McDingle of the McDingles of social register fame and that she was visiting friends in Montreal.

There were no boks in the cabin. There were no books in the cabin, no newspapers, no radio. In the snowbound weeks that followed, Evans studied the picture more and more. In time he fell head over heels in love with her.

"By golly I'm going to marry her," he told himself suddenly one night. To a lonely young man who had just found a gold mine it didn't seem a strange decision. He began making his plans.

When spring came Evans went to a leading mining company with his ore samples. In a few weeks he closed a deal with the firm that assured him of his million—and more. He left at once to find Kathleen McDingle.

The house was big and old and impressive. Mark felt a little timorous after ringing the doorbell. The door swung open and he found himself gawking into the face of a beautiful girl with long dark hair.

"You're Kathleen?" he stammered.

"Yes," she said pleasantly.

"You're even prettier than the picture," said the bemused young engineer.

"I don't know what — " she started to say uncertainly. But Evans didn't let her finish. His story came out in a swift torrent of words. He told her of his gold strike and the discovery of her picture, and how he had come to love her. She listened in wondering silence.

"Here," he said nervously as he finished, and pulled the worn picture from his wallet. She studied it and then looked at Evans strangely.

"Mother!" she called into the interior of the room. A sweet-faced graying woman of middle age came out.

"Look at this, mother," said the girl. The older woman glanced at the picture and exclaimed:

"Why, wherever did you get this, Kathleen? That picture of me was taken in Montreal in 1920 before I was married."

Kathleen burst out laughing. The mother looked doubtfully from her daughter to the thunderstruck tall young man staring back at her as if hypnotized.

"What's it all about?" asked the puzzled woman.

Kathleen thoughtfully studied the confused visitor who, after all, had found a nice new gold mine. So few eligible bachelors do these days. Her dark eyes smiled at Evans with a sudden warmth that began to thaw his chilled despair. Mark smiled back at her tentatively.

"It's a long story, Mother," said Kathleen, "perhaps you'd better invite this young man to stay for dinner."

Fired O.S.U. Professor Lands Job in Florida

COLUMBUS, Aug. 21 — Walter G. O'Donnell, whose contract as an economics instructor at Ohio State university was not renewed when he became a campus storm center, announced today that he has been appointed as associate professor of economics at Florida State university.

O'Connell, who was on the faculty of John Carroll university in Cleveland before coming to Ohio State, also was a member of the Lake Erie beach erosion committee of the Ohio Postwar program commission.

He ran into his trouble with the university administration when President Howard L. Bevis "disavowed" O'Donnell's activities as executive secretary of the Ohio Friends of the Public Schools, a group seeking increased schools appropriations from the legislature.

Mrs. Burley Hostess For Society Picnic

Mrs. W. B. Burley of South Grand avenue was hostess to the Ladies Aid Society of Forest Lawn Presbyterian church for a picnic supper Thursday evening at her home. The supper was served to the members and guests at small tables arranged on the lawn.

A business meeting followed the supper with Mrs. C. C. Metz presiding. Twenty-two members answered roll call with Bible verses, and Mrs. Merle Burnett conducted devotions and gave a prayer.

The following program was in charge of Mrs. Ella Lucky: a group of church hymns played on the accordion by Mrs. Leonard Thompson; reading, "Down on the Farm," by Mrs. Walter Minshall; and a song, "Stranger By the Sea," by Mrs. E. E. Webb and Mrs. S. R. Martin, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Charles Lamb.

Mrs. J. A. Carriker of Indian Trail, N. C., a former member of the society who is visiting here now, gave a short talk, and Mrs. Daver Walker of West Middlesex, Pa., also a guest, gave a brief talk.

Rev. Carriker, a former pastor of the church, and son, Donald, were guests for the picnic supper.

The next meeting will be Sept. 16 with Mrs. Ed Walker on North Grand avenue.

Dairyman at Kenton Elected to Association

The unanimous election of John T. Slemon of Kenton to membership in the Ayrshire Breeders' Association has been announced by National Secretary C. T. Conklin of Brandon, Vt. The ancestors of Mr. Slemon's herd of dairy cows trace back to the heather-covered hills of County Ayr, Scotland, from which the breed derives its name. There are now more than 20,000 herds of Ayrshires in the United States.

Autumn color preferences for most people swing to deep rich shades of red, brown, green and purple.

A crowd of 10,000 persons watched a fraternal parade which was to last until night after a lively 10th street business district to give shelter under awnings and marquees.

F. Ray York of Parkersburg, W. Va., was given a salute as the grand worthy president succeeding L. W. Peal of Bedford, Pa.

Some of the Women of the Moose program will be carried over into tomorrow. The schedule includes calls for the election of officers and selection of the next meeting place.

Among guests present at the parade were 32 children from the Moose supported Moosehaven home at Moosehaven, Fla.

The parade passed before James J. Davis, 74, director general of the Moose who is credited by officers with being the man most responsible for the growth and success of the order. He is from Pittsburgh, Pa., a former U. S. senator, and former U. S. secretary of labor. Davis was stricken of heat Monday, but recovered.

"The DUKE of PADUCAH"

The "DUKE OF PADUCAH" is an outstanding example of the typical American humorist. His inimitable style of timing and delivering laugh lines in his soft, southern drawl has endeared him to millions of radio fans. The secret of the popularity of the "DUKE OF PADUCAH" might be attributed to his life-long study of the humor of the American people; his original witticisms are clean, fast, clever, and invariably of the "Belly Laugh" variety.

First Morrow Co. Beef Field Day Set for Sept. 1

MT. GILEAD, Aug. 21—Beef breeders from several central Ohio counties will be invited to attend Morrow County's First Annual Beef Field Day, according to Donald Buhl, secretary of the Morrow County Beef Breeders Association. The event, which is scheduled for Labor Day, September 1, will include visits to several outstanding beef herds in Morrow County, a picnic lunch at noon and a talk on the problems of beef production by a beef specialist. "All farmers who are interested in beef production are urged to bring their families to the field day," Buhl stated, "there will be something of interest for everyone."

After assembling at the Mt. Gilead Courthouse at 8:30 a. m., the party will visit the Frank Matlack farm, near Iberia—the Donald Buhl farm north of Williamsport, and the Vernon Hetrick farm in the same vicinity. At noon, a basket lunch will be eaten at the Donald Holland farm, south of Mt. Gilead. Coffee and lemonade will be furnished by the association.

In the afternoon, farms of two other beef breeders will be visited. These are the Kenneth Barber farm, near Ashley, and the Warren Gordon farm, east of Mt. Gilead.

The Morrow County Beef Breeders Association is made up of breeders of all three of the major beef breeds. The purpose of the organization is to promote the beef industry of the county in any way possible.

INGENUITY BACKFIRES

By The Associated Press

HILLSBORO, O., Aug. 21—His ingenuity backfired for William Noble, 45, of Hillsboro. Sheriff P. F. Gustin said Noble placed a bottle of wine on the outside ledge of a window at the county jail, and passed a hose through the bars so the inmates could quaff. Now he's inside himself, sentenced to 10 days and fined $25.

posal for a reexamination of the deadlocked efforts to set up a united government for that country.

Today Is Deadline

Marshall set today as the deadline for a report from the stalemated Soviet-American joint commission at Seoul. He told Mikoyan in a note last week that if this showed the two powers could not agree on a provisional regime to take the place of the separate occupation zones it was time to decide whether to call off the negotiations which started three months ago.

Meanwhile the chief American representative on the four power treaty commission which has been trying even longer to settle differences over a peace treaty for Austria was due to leave Vienna today for consultations in Washington.

Robert A. Lovett, undersecretary of state, used diplomatic language to say in effect that Joseph M. Dodge had been recalled because the Russians were stalling at Vienna.

Dodge, chief of the American delegation in the Austrian capital, has repeatedly criticized Soviet tactics ever since the treaty commission started work May 12 at the direction of the Big Four foreign ministers.

Makes Statement Public

Lovett made public a statement in which Dodge noted that the Russians seized the Lobau oil refinery and other industrial plants in their occupation zone even while the commission was trying to define just what plants could be taken as reparations. The commission chief also charged Russians with showing "no reference" to contentions of American, British and French members of these confiscations any way with Soviet claims.

Despite the apparent breakdown of both talks, officials made plain that this government is determined not to consider them washed up entirely. United States already has all trade courses blocked out in case.

British Fight for Independent Filmdom Hits Shortages Snag

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Aug. 21—Paralyzing shortages of everything from cameras to costumes plague Britain's efforts to free 30,000,000 weekly moviegoers from dependence on Hollywood.

British producers have demonstrated their talent and taste, but they lack facilities to enable any substantial increase beyond the 60-odd major films planned for this year.

That number represents less than 15 per cent of the annual turnover in the nation's 4,500 theaters—of which nearly a thousand change their double-feature bills three times a week.

Darkened screens consequently are forecast throughout the land inside a year unless a much-rumored compromise is subsituted for the 75 per cent tax on foreign film earnings that provoked Hollywood's ban on further shipments.

2 Major Producers

Britain's two major producing companies—the J. Arthur Rank organization and Sir Alexander Korda's London films—already are grinding at capacity speed. But they must share only four technicolor cameras while rationed clothing coupons restrict elaborate costuming designs.

Meanwhile both firms are awaiting government action on their priority applications to complete war damage repairs and begin new studio construction.

The Rank outfit, spread out among seven different controls nearly half of the 50-odd available sound stages. So far this year it has turned out 20 of 44 pictures scheduled in a whooping $35,000,000 budget.

Industry experts estimate Rank's producing efforts have cost him $40,000,000 during the last few years, during which he bankrolled such super-spectacles as "Cesar and Cleopatra" and "Henry V."

However, they say, the profits from his widespread theater holdings have helped offset this loss.

No Talent Shortage

Though Rank is making some of his own cameras and lenses to beat foreign equipment bottlenecks, neither he nor Korda face a shortage of talent.

Rank's latest epic is Sir Laurence Oliver's $2,000,000 version of "Hamlet." Korda is laying out similar sums for Oscar Wilde's "An Ideal Husband" starring Paulette Goddard and "Bonnie Prince Charlie" with David Niven.

Other items in Korda's $16,000,000 budget of 10 films include an Orson Welles production of "Cyrano de Bergerac" and a starring vehicle, unchosen as yet, for Cary Grant.

The Korda plant itself is a much smaller affair than his competitor's, comprising nine sound stages at two studios. Present plans call for building five more in the next 12 months.

Of the "Big Five" American firms represented in Britain, only M. G. M., and Warner Brothers have their own production facilities. Paramount, Columbia and Twentieth Century-Fox leased studio space to make their seven pictures this year.

D. of U. V. Tent Plans For Convention Here

When Harriet Beecher Stowe Tent No. 48, Daughters of Union Veterans, met Tuesday at the Y. M. C. A., plans were discussed for a district convention to be held in Marion Oct. 2. It was announced that Mrs. Bertha Drox of Mansfield, past national D. of U. V. president, and Mrs. Frances Lewis of Warren, state inspector, will be present. Reports on other conventions were made, and a report on a picnic and program of the local tent in July was given. Three applications for membership were received. Mrs. Rosella Babbs, a member of the Mary Morris Husband tent of Richwood was a guest.

It was voted for the Marion and Richwood tents to hold regularly a joint annual picnic the last Thursday in July. Department general orders were read, and in accordance with request, department aids from Marion were appointed for the state convention in Columbus next year. Those named are Mrs. Victoria Thomas and Mrs. Alma Anderson.

Nine sick calls were reported made. Regular schedule of meetings has been resumed after a vacation period, and the next meeting was announced for Sept. 2.

GI'S WITH CASH, IDEA MEET; FIRM IS BORN

By International News Service

CHICAGO—One of the ex-GIs had capital, the other had an idea and their new Juvenile Chairs were born.

The special chairs, designed for any youngster who has outgrown a highchair but isn't tall enough to sit in an adult's chair, is the brainchild of Martin J. Millman, 28.

The seat of the chair is adjustable to four positions and may be placed to accommodate the size of the child. The arms fit under any table. And any toddler between one and two will be held safely in position, the child's knees will rest on the apron of the table. Best of all, because the base of the chair is faced out so that the center of gravity is quite a distance from either side of the base, the chair cannot be tipped over or tilted.

The frame is chrome steel tubing. The seat and back are padded and upholstered in leatherette, making it washable and easy to clean.

Today, Millman and his partner, Edmond Stern, 30, have four employes and 1½ thousand feet of factory space. Chicago suppliers have given the two veterans a break on materials.

Even before they placed the chair on display at the annual Furniture Show in Chicago, they had orders from one of the city's largest department stores. Now they are expecting to be taxed to capacity.

Millman and Stern both pay tribute to the power of advertising for what it has brought them to gether. Stern, owner of a small chair manufacturing concern, couldn't get any wood. He inserted a want ad, asking for a partner with an idea. Millman replied.

Now they have a $15,000 investment represented by 50 shares which they own outright. And best of all, business is coming in.

Chemists Find Milk Is Best for Teeth

By The United Press

MADISON, Wis.—University of Wisconsin bacteriologists are having a hard time finding anything better than milk for preserving the teeth.

For three years the scientists have been trying to find some food element which will protect teeth. So far, they have found little proof that adding fluorine to a city's drinking water is an adequate answer. But they have discovered that whole milk does the job.

Dr C. A. Elvehjem, chairman of the biochemistry department, says the addition of fluorine to drinking water in the quantity generally proposed—one part fluorine to one million parts water—had no effect whatsoever on rats used in the experiment. When the amount of fluorine was raised to five parts, dental cavities were reduced by one-half, but faint stripes appeared on the rats' teeth. When raised to 10 parts or higher, the number of cavities dropped but the teeth changed color and eventually became chalky.

The scientists found that milk produced much more positive results. Rats fed a milk-enriched diet developed only one cavity each or none at all.

Blood-letting or cupping was used as early as 413 B.C. to treat some. Top left, he takes a dip but (top right) still looks all in. Lower left he holds his head in his paw, then (lower right) decides to sleep the whole thing off.

Railroad Sending Freight on Planes

CHICAGO—The Santa Fe Railway sends freight by air.

The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway owns the Santa Fe Skyway, Inc. This organization of 110 picked airmen has seven all-freighters in operation.

"This is another example of Santa Fe's use of new modes of transport to meet special shipper demands, and to keep revenue from falling off," says W. B. Lake, president of the Santa Fe System Lines.

In 1931, the Santa Fe began using highway trucks to provide a more flexible and speedy service in handling less carload shipments. Its trucks now operate 11,284,587 ton miles of freight over 7,800 miles of highway routes, according to the company's 1945 annual report.

This was an important service to many shippers and one other railroad was quick to copy, Lake said.

According to Lake, the Santa Fe Railway has filed a motion for rehearing on immediate air transporting by the Civil Aeronautics Board. This action on Santa Fe's pending application for common carrier privileges for the transportation of property and U. S. mail by aircraft, originally filed in November, 19

SHARPEST POLIO RISE NOTED LAST WEEK

By The Associated Press

The year's sharpest rise in the number of infantile paralysis cases occurred last week—with increases noted in 32 states—but the national total to date remains the lowest since 1942.

Only one community in the nation found it necessary to take additional precautions during the disease's upsurge. Swimming pools have been closed in Wilmington.

Furthermore, reports from 20 states which have figures on cases available, show only 30 so far this year, compared with 338 for those same states a year ago, when the nation suffered its worst outbreak since 1916.

The U. S. public health service in Washington had reports of 411 new cases for the week ended Aug. 16 throughout the nation. This compared with 279 in the preceding week, and brought to 2,664 the total recorded by the service for 1947, compared with 8,841 for the comparable period in 1946. In 1942, there were 1,050 cases for the same period.

Reports gathered by The Associated Press in 28 states, plus figures for the other 20 and the District of Columbia obtained from the public health service, show a total of 2,709 cases for 1947 compared with 9,544 on a comparable basis for last year.

But some of the states in the AP's survey brought the figures up to Aug. 19 for both years, whereas the public health service reports date only through Aug. 16.

$50,000 Will Buy Reynolds Bombshell

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Aug. 21—The Reynolds Bombshell, a converted Army bomber which twice rounded the earth, was offered for sale today to anyone with $50,000 and a yen to "fly around the world some weekend."

The ship in which William Odom circled the globe in the record time of three days early this month was advertised for sale in aviation circles by Milton Reynolds, Chicago manufacturer who sponsored Odom's hop.

Reynolds said the bomber cost him $350,000, that he spent $150,000 on it for two world hops and that "it is in perfect shape to make another flight right now." Reynolds accompanied Odom in an earlier round-the-world flight in April. The second trip was a solo.

U.S. TO INSIST GREEK BORDER BE WATCHED

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, Aug. 21—The United States was expected today to insist the United Nations continue a watch over Greece's northern borders until the veto-blocked Balkan problem comes before the 55-nation assembly next month.

Following Russia's veto of American-supported attempts to bring peace to the Balkans, the United States yesterday formally moved to place the Balkan dispute on the assembly agenda for action by the world body.

Since the Balkan problem is still before the security council, the assembly cannot take any action until the 11-nation body has formally dismissed it.

Authoritative sources said the United States probably would fight to keep the issue before the council until actual discussion of the case begins in the assembly, which will meet in New York Sept. 16. Then, they said, once discussion has been started the council would be asked to dismiss the case and thus clear the way for the assembly to make recommendations.

During yesterday's session Russia backed Egypt's demand that the United Nations order the immediate evacuation of British troops from Egyptian soil while the western powers lined up behind a proposal to toss the case back into direct negotiations.

Hungary Rejected As Member of UN

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, Aug. 21—The security council today rejected Hungary's bid for membership in the United Nations by a vote of 1 to 1, with nine abstentions.

Only Syria voted in favor of admitting the former Axis satellite. The United States cast the negative vote.

Hungary thus fell far short of the necessary seven affirmative votes out of the 11, including the concurrence of all the veto-holding Big Five powers.

Most delegates, including Russia, had contended that no action would be taken on the admission of any of the ex-enemy states until after the peace treaties entered into force.

Two British Soldiers Wounded in Palestine

By The Associated Press

JERUSALEM, Aug. 21 — Two British soldiers were wounded, one seriously, when an electrically detonated mine blasted their truck near Natanya today, and in Jerusalem an Arab store was demolished by a bomb which army sources said was tossed by an Arab "boycott patrol."

Unofficial sources in the port city of Haifa said £10,000 ($40,000) was stolen from an Arab honey gatherers bank messenger during a transfer of funds.

The Jerusalem store blast brought a general alarm, the second in 15 hours.

Bees are often more important to farmers as pollinators than as honey producers.

KEEP CITY COUNCIL BUSY NAMING MAYOR AT FOREST

Office Changes Hands Twice In One Meeting

Special to The Star

KENTON, Aug. 21—The residents of Forest were not aware of it, but with in a period of a few minutes, they had three mayors.

Mr. William Hougendobler is now mayor, succeeding Mr. Emmet McIntee, who resigned at a recent meeting of the village council.

For at the council meeting which heard Mr. McIntee's resignation read, the president of council, Mr. Mark Fisnburn, who is supposed to automatically succeed the mayor, also resigned his post because he felt that he could not accept the office of mayor. The council then elected Mr. Hougendobler as its president and then installed him as mayor. Both Mr. McIntee and Mr. Fisnburn gave the press of business duties as their reason for resignations.

Mr. Hougendobler will finish the unexpired term which ends January 1, 1948. A new mayor will be elected at the November polls. L. C. Brown is the Republican candidate and will be opposed by Bert Poling, Democrat.

BLUEBERRY PIE . . . Everybody's favorite . . .

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

Is there anybody who doesn't relish blueberries? The big, frosty, blue cultivated ones are a treat which lasts all summer, as good things should!

So—have you been having lots of blueberry pie? And just to make it really perfect, have you been serving it topped with home-made vanilla ice cream? Here's how!

Blueberry Pie

1 recipe rich pastry, 2 pint boxes cultivated blueberries, ⅔ cup sugar, 2 tablespoons flour, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 1 tablespoon butter.

Line a 9-inch pie plate with pastry. Wash the blueberries and drain well. Combine sugar, flour, cinnamon and salt, and mix with blueberries. Pour into pie shell. Sprinkle lemon juice over the top and dot with butter. Cover with top crust, which has been pricked with fork. Bake in 450 degree oven for 10 minutes. Reduce the heat to 350 degrees and bake pie for 30 minutes longer.

Vanilla Ice Cream

1 cup milk, few grains of salt, 1½ teaspoons vanilla, 1 cup sugar, 3 egg yolks, 1½ cups heavy cream.

Scald milk. Add sugar and salt and cook three minutes, stirring constantly. Add egg yolks and cook two minutes, still stirring. Chill, add vanilla and whipped cream. Place in tray of mechanical refrigerator. After one hour stir up completely. Freeze two hours longer.

Blueberry Cake

½ cup butter or margarine, 1 cup sugar, 1 egg, well beaten, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 cup milk, 2 cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1½ cups blueberries.

Cream butter or margarine with sugar. Add egg. Mix and sift other dry ingredients, reserving one-fourth cup flour to dredge the berries, and add alternately with milk. Fold in the dredged berries and bake in greased shallow pan in 350 degree oven 35 to 45 minutes, or until a straw inserted in the center comes out dry. Serve hot with hard sauce or whipped cream.

Blueberry Muffins

2 cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 egg, well beaten, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 cup milk, 3 tablespoons melted butter, 1 cup blueberries.

Mix and sift dry ingredients, reserving one-quarter cup of flour to dredge the berries. Combine egg, milk and butter, and add to dry ingredients with as little stirring as possible. Fold in dredged berries. Bake in buttered muffin tins 25 minutes in 400 degree oven.

Zanesville's Win Gives Bums Edge On Year's Series

Smitty Loses Game Employing Donkeys But Enjoys "Show."

The Junior Chamber of Commerce softball team nipped Smitty's All-Stars, 3-2, on donkey back at Crystal Lake park last night.

The combination rodeo and softball game attracted an estimated 800 persons to the game Funds raised are for the Junior Chamber of Commerce civic improvement fund.

Even though his aggregation of All-Stars dropped the contest, Manager Harold Smith was not despondent, declaring it was the best Wild West show he ever saw.

In a preliminary game Smitty's Maids topped Tony's Bakery of Fremont, 6-2, shoving across winning markers in the fifth.

SPORTS LAUGHS

Many years ago one of the great point-a-minute Michigan teams, coached by Fielding Yost, was playing Buffalo university.

The Wolverines were battering Buffalo and the score mounted steadily. The Buffalo players were also taking a bruising beating physically. The rule book at that time said that once a player left the game he could not return, but Yost waived the rule and allowed the Buffalo boys to move in and out of play.

Finally a Buffalo player came off the field exhausted and sat down on the Michigan bench, alongside Yost.

The Michigan coach said: "Young man, you belong on the other side."

Gasping for breath, the player replied:

"Please don't send me away, Mr. Yost. I want to stay here. I've been in that game four times already and I don't want to go back again."

Trapshooters Rehearse Today For Friday's "Grand Finale"

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Editor

VANDALIA, O., Aug. 21—This is dress rehearsal day for trapshooting's greatest attraction at the 48th Grand American.

More than 1,600 marksmen from all parts of the continent—the greatest entry ever attracted by a "Roaring Grand" event—will face the traps in a 100-target race at handicap yardages.

This one is just a prelude to Friday's premier offering, the Grand American handicap itself, and most coveted of all trapdom's titles.

The same conditions prevail in the two events, and practically the same field will fire them, but there their similarity ends. The difference is about the same as that between the sixth race at Churchill Downs and the seventh race—when the seventh race is the Kentucky Derby.

Called Tuneup

The preliminary is called a tuneup for the Grand, but it's anything but that. Only once since 1900 has the same guy won the preliminary and the big handicap—R. R. Barber of Paulina, Ill., once shooting 98 from 16 yards in the rehearsal and 99 the next day from same yardage to annex both crowns.

But that was away back in 1905 No one else has been able to win both championships, even in separate years

And, just as in the big race, no one has been able to win the preliminary twice The guaranteed prize list is $5,000 With the winner getting $500 and 146th place $15 in return for a $20 entry fee

Before the featured handicap gets under way, however, the horde of pellet-sprayers had a lot of unfinished business to transact. In the first place, 255 shooters were due to bang away at 100 targets each in a carryover of the class championship races started yesterday, in which 995 finishers contributed 56 scores of 100, some 104 counts of 99, and a gaudy 108 of 98's.

Also on the day's slate, before the handicappers start firing, were shootoffs to decide some of the major championships which have been hanging fire since Monday and Tuesday because of rain and darkness

Joe Heistand of Hillsboro, O., and Herb Bush of Canton, Ill., last survivors of the state title-holders in the champ of champs event started Monday, in which eight scored perfect 100's, will fight it out on a man-to-man basis after going "straight" through Tuesday's North American clay target 200-clay race

Deadlocked for Honors

Both of them, too, are deadlocked with nine others for the North American laurels, a close second to the big handicap in the hearts of the marksmen, and the 11 perfect shooters will meet today in a shootoff.

The women's and professional ends of the same race have shootoffs scheduled today, too, with Mrs. Lala Hall Frank of Sierra Madre, Calif., six-time winner, Miss Florence Mos of Wichita, Kan., and Helen O Dell of La Grange, Calif., clashing for the feminine title after scoring record-shattering 197's.

Lee Braun of Dallas, Tex., tangles with J B. Grier of Rockland, Del., for the professional spoils. Both scored 200 of 200 in the regular event.

Wrestles in Double Main Go Tonight

One of the main events at the Marion Armory tonight will be between Gordon Hessell, the Milwaukee Flash and a new boy, Benny Trudell of Windsor, the Canadian who sports a beard in the ring and true to a lot of lumberjacks who have taken to the wrestling game, is plenty rough. This match will be over the ninety minute route with two out of three falls.

The other main event is a return match between Pavo Ketonen and Eddie Williams. They wrestled a one hour draw here several weeks ago that had the fans wanting to take Pavo apart. Tonight they, too, will have plenty minutes to settle the score.

A ten minute prelim between Phil Winslow and Herb Williams will open the show at 8:30.

OILY HAIR?

Eminent Practitioner Suggests This Simple Care

Dr. C. E. Shiffer, Licensed by Ohio State Medical Board, (Galvanic Therapy)

An oily scalp requires more frequent shampooing. But dermatologists agree that shampoos containing alcohol, free alkalies and harsh ingredients only irritate the scalp, making the oily condition even worse.

Unlike ordinary shampoos, Dr. Shiffer's Special 101 Formula Shampoo can be used often as needed without harming the most delicate scalp. Specially compounded to give gentle cleansing it works into a rich lather in hard or soft water. A quick rinse leaves the hair and scalp refreshed and thoroughly clean. For additional protection between shampoos Dr. Shiffer's Hair and Scalp Conditioner is recommended.

Blair of Hobart, Ind. Rush Hanover owned by Rush Grimes of Bellefontaine with Charles Bewley in the sulky finished second in all three heats. Josedale Pilot, of the Sims and Wyatt stables in Waldo with Charles Sims driving, captured third place in all three heats.

Yanks To Play Four Games at Cleveland

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Aug. 21 — The Cleveland Indians' fight for a first division berth was in high gear today—and the Redskins hoped the visiting New York Yankees wouldn't throw the campaign into reverse.

Don (No Hit) Black, graduate cum laude of the Alcoholics Anonymous, was nominated by Manager Lou Boudreau to hurl against the league-leaders' Floyd Bevens tonight as the currently red hot Redskins pry the lid from a four-game series with Bronx Bombers.

Shifting gears with a pair of comeback rallies, the Tribe edged Washington's Nats, 4-3 and 7-6, in extra-inning ends of a twi-night doubleheader last night to boost their modest winning streak to five games and extend the Nats' losing string to 11 before 15,174 fans.

The double triumph lifted the Tribe within shooting distance of the "nappy hunting grounds,' one game out of fourth place and only three and one-half tilts behind the second-place Boston Red Sox.

Bob Feller, Dazzy Vance Are Called Equal in Speed

By FRANK ECK
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK—Alfonso Ramon Lopez, Cleveland Indian catcher who holds the record of having caught the most games in major league history, sees very little difference between the speed of a Bob Feller pitch and one thrown by Brooklyn's Dazzy Vance, star of almost 20 years ago.

Lopez, the popular Spanish catcher who almost blighted the managerial life of Billy Herman, has caught both Feller and Vance.

"Dazzy Vance threw with a full overhand motion," says Lopez. "His ball really jumped as it came to the plate. But it's hard to say whether Vance was faster than Bob Feller. Boo has a greater assortment than Dazzy.

"When Feller throws his hard one it really comes in on a right handed batter."

Lopez, who has caught more than 1,900 games, was voted by Pittsburgh fans in a newspaper poll last season as the most logical Pirate manager. However, the new Pirate owners wanted Herman who had been playing with the Boston Braves.

Lopez asked to be traded and wound up with the Cleveland Indians after playing 17 years in the National League with Brooklyn, Boston and Pittsburgh.

AL LOPEZ
Caught Both Pitchers

"I would have liked to have given it (managing a big league team) a try," says Lopez. "I was surprised when Pittsburgh gave up Third Baseman Bob Elliott for Herman for Boo's the type of player you build a club around."

Lopez holds a number of major league records. He has caught 100 or more games a season. He did this eight years in succession to tie Gabby Hartnett for National League honors.

In 1941 with the Pirates he caught 114 games without permitting a passed ball and he is one of the 14 catchers to make an unassisted double play.

Lopez has been playing organized ball since 1925 when he broke in with Tampa, Fla., where he resides.

Navy Pilot Flies At 640.7 M.P.H. To Set New Mark

By The Associated Press

MUROC, Calif., Aug. 21 — A slim, wiry Naval pilot flying a trim, sub-winged experimental airplane today held the international air speed record after having bulleted four times over a three-kilometer (1,863 mile) course at an average of 640.7 miles an hour.

The mark was set with a double built jet-propelled skystreak D-558, flown by Commander Turner Foster Caldwell Jr., 33, of Arlington, Va., a former Pacific combat pilot. After traveling at a higher speed than man had yet attained, he shrugged his trim shoulders and said:

"It was a great relief from the paper work I've been doing in Washington. It's a great day and a great ship."

The Navy pilot beat the former world mark which had been set last June 19 by an Army man, Col. Albert Boyd, who flew the same course at an average of 623.8 miles an hour in a Lockheed P-80-R jet plane. Boyd's flight had broken the British-held record of 616 miles per hour set by a Gloster Meteor IV plane in 1946.

Commander Caldwell, since relief from his combat duties, has been serving as assistant chief of the fighter design branch, piloted aircraft division, bureau of aeronautics in Washington.

The tiny plane, with a wingspan of 25 feet and length of 35 feet, made four passes over the three-kilometer course, and the fastest time was recorded at 653.4 miles an hour. The times for the other three passes were not at once announced.

Commander Caldwell's flight marked the first time the Navy has held the air speed record since 1923, when Lt. Al Williams set a mark of 266.59 miles an hour in a Curtiss racer.

PLAYS THAT COUNT

By FRANK ECK
AP Sports Editor

"The most important play I ever saw happened during the 1933 American league race," says Joe Cronin. "The Washington Senators were playing the New York Yankees in a battle for the flag.

Cronin
Red Sox

"Lou Gehrig was on second base and Dixie Walker on first for the Yanks. Tony Lazzeri hit a long fly ball to right center and Goose Goslin, playing right field for us couldn't quite reach it.

"The ball hit the front of Babe Ruth's bleachers and richocheted to Goose on one bounce. I went out for the relay from my shortstop position. Meanwhile Gehrig was a bit slow in rounding the bases and Walker just sort of jogged on his heels.

"Coach Art Fletcher of the Yanks couldn't hold up Walker. I throw home to Luke Sewell. Luke tagged Gehrig, who wheeled him around. But as he spun around Luke tagged Walker for an odd double play.

"We won the game 7-4 and it had an important bearing on the pennant race. Washington won the flag, but we lost the World Series that year to the Giants in five games."

BLUEGE TO QUELL CLUBHOUSE REVOLT

Paper Reports 8 Senators Object to Manager.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21—The Washington Post says Manager Ossie Bluege has called a team meeting of the Washington Senators in Detroit today with the avowed intention of quelling a clubhouse rhubarb over his leadership before it goes any farther.

Hopping mad at published reports that eight players consider his handling of his athletes "undiplomatic" and would prefer to play elsewhere, the Post says, Bluege told newsmen in Cleveland last night:

"The time has come for a showdown. I'll read the players the newspaper article and if any or all eight of them admit that they made that statement, they are through." He said they would be suspended immediately.

The story in question was published by the Washington Star yesterday before the Senators absorbed their 10th and 11th straight defeats in a two-night doubleheader with Cleveland.

Burton Hawkins, Star baseball writer, attributed the criticism to five unnamed regulars and three reserves. One of the first stringers was quoted as saying "If Bluege is managing next year I don't want to play with Washington."

Hawkins said the eight had little criticism of Bluege's baseball knowledge but felt that he often was too brusque with members of the team.

THREE CLEVELANDERS SEEK MAYOR'S JOB

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Aug. 21—Three mayoralty candidates and 177 other office-seekers were listed today for nomination in Cleveland's non-partisan municipal primary election Sept. 30.

A rousing battle was predicted by political observers for the 33 seats in city council, with 141 candidates filed for the positions as entries closed at midnight yesterday.

Candidates for mayor included Democratic Incumbent Thomas A. Burke, who succeeded ex-Gov. Frank J. Lausche in 1945 and later was elected to another term; Eliot Ness, former safety director running as an independent with Republican endorsement, and Councilman Edward L. Pucel, self-styled "rebel" Democrat.

Filing long petitions and brief statements, the three mayoralty aspirants gave varying reasons for the quest of Cleveland's $15,000-a-year chief executive position.

Ness promised a campaign "in the spirit" of former independent Mayor Tom L. Johnson; Pucel asserted the city was at the "economics crossroads," and promised "an active and vigorous program providing for the fullest use of Cleveland's tremendous resources and facilities," while Burke declared he wanted to finish the job he had started.

Fighting Cards Edge Bums, 3-2 To Set Baseball World Agog

By The Associated Press

The baseball world was agog today over the spirit of St. Louis and 25,762 Ebbets field fans who yesterday braved damp and dreary weather to watch a tense diamond drama came away echoing the memorable words attributed to the late fight impresario, Tex Rickard, "I never seed anything like it."

The Cardinals clumbed back to defeat the league leading Brooklyn Dodgers, 3-2, in 12 furiously fought innings and cut the Brooks' margin back to four and a half games. A home run smash by Whitey Kurowski broke up the game.

For two thrill-packed hours fans had sat enthralled at the marvelous pitching of Ralph Branca, Brooklyn's ace hurler. At the end of eight dramatic innings, the Birds had only one safety off Branca and were trailing, 2-0.

Gets Rid of 2

Red Schoendienst, St. Louis leadoff hitter in the ninth, walked, but the 21-year-old fireballer quickly disposed of the next two batters.

Slaughter walked.

Branca threw two very wide pitches to Ron Northey and Manager Burt Shotton called on coach Hugh Casey.

Northey singled to score Schoendienst, Johnny Jorgensen nobbled Kurowski's popper and Slaughter scored the tying run.

In the turbulent tenth, Howie Pollet, the stylish Card lefthander, was on the mound. He had relieved Ted Wilks who had replaced starter Murry Dickson. Ed Stanky punched a single to right, and was bunted along by Jackie Robinson. Pete Reiser walked and Carl Furillo drilled a line out through the right side.

Stanky Tagged

Chuck Diering came charging in on the ball and rifled a line throw to catcher Del Rice who put the tag on Stanky.

Then came Kurowski's ruinian smash.

Even then the Dodgers were not beaten. Robinson opened the last half of the 12th with a single. He was sacrificed to second. Manager Eddie Dyer replaced Pollet with George Munger who before ever making a pitch to the plate, wheeled and threw to shortstop Marty Marion to pick Robinson neatly off second. Pinch hitter Arky Vaughan went out on a routine grounder to end the game.

The third-place Boston Braves remained seven games back of the Dodgers when the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated them in a 18-11 slugfest on 29 hits.

Mize Homers Twice

Johnny Mize walloped his 37th and 38th home runs of the season as the New York Giants split a doubleheader with the Cincinnati Reds, winning, 10-3, and losing, 3-2. The Philadelphia Phillies and Chicago Cubs played a 1-1 tie in a game halted at the end of seven innings by rain.

Overcoming a 13-5 Detroit lead after the Tigers had scored nine runs in the seventh inning, the New York Yankees came on to win, 14-13, in 11 innings, tying the score with five runs in the ninth and winning in the 11th on a single by Johnny Lindell and a double by Phil Rizzuto.

The Philadelphia Athletics scored three in the top of the 10 to defeat the White Sox in Chicago 5-2.

The Cleveland Indians swept a doubleheader from the Washington Senators, 4-3 and 7-6, winning both games in extra innings.

The Boston Red Sox and St. Louis Browns were rained out.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights
Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

"Chandler Should've Asked Me About Leo," Says Youthful Fan

By FRANK ECK
AP Sports Editor

BROOKLYN, N. Y.—If Leo Durocher isn't brought back to manage the Dodgers next season probably the most disappointed lad in Brooklyn will be 14-year-old Donny Williams.

Young Williams, an ardent Dodger fan and quite an authority on Brooklyn baseball, used to come to Ebbets Field in a wheel chair. He was in a plaster cast from his toes to his chest for five years and two months. Now he wears a brace and a specially constructed shoe and is able to get around very nicely.

"Ebbets Field isn't the same without Leo," says Donny. "Leo has meant much to me. Few people know how kind-hearted he could be. I know. I'll always remember the time the Dodgers trained at Bear mountain.

"Leo invited me to be his personal guest several times, introduced me to all the players and gave me the wonderful wrist watch he received for playing in the 1938 All-Star game.

"Every birthday he sends me a gift. Last year he had my mother, dad and me as his guests at a Dodger-Giant game in the Polo Grounds and before the game he permitted me to sit on the bench with the players."

Clement E. Williams, Donny's father, says the fine treatment the boy has received from Durocher and others in baseball has been the best tonic the boy could have received in his fight for health.

"I'll be glad when 1948 gets here," says Donny. "I'll just forget about Commissioner Chandler suspending Leo for one year 'for conduct detrimental to baseball.' It's too bad the commissioner didn't ask me what kind of a guy Leo really is. While he was a little bit bad he was very good, too."

Fourteen-year-old Donny Williams posed with his pal when Leo Durocher was manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers. Donny's father credits Durocher with aiding the lad's fight for health.

DON SCOTT'S SON DIES

By The United Press

MANSFIELD, Aug. 21 — Don Sands Scott, 3, son of the late Don Scott, Ohio State University football star, died yesterday. The child had been living with his mother at the home of her mother, Mrs. H. C. Kochenderfer, near here. The father was killed in a bomber crash over England, in October, 1943.

Radioactive Drugs Seen as Life Savers

By The United Press

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. — Radioactive drugs soon will save as many hitherto doomed lives as were taken in the two atom-bomb explosions in Japan, doctors and research men from Oak Ridge believe.

Dr. James I. Bibb, chief of staff at Erlanger hospital, says it is now reliably reported that radioactive phosphorus and iodine are conquering blood diseases, and other radioactive elements have been used to treat cancer.

"RELAX AND WIN," SAYS BUZZY WARES

NEW YORK—St. Louis Cardinal coach Buzzy Wares thinks the team that can relax is the team that will win the pennant.

By "relax" Buzzy doesn't mean loafing under pop flies, or failing to run out hits, but having a little fun on the bench — laughing with and at the other team.

Buzzy Wares Cardinals

Wares is a master at promoting high spirits on the Cardinal bench, just as he once was on the coaching lines. Buzzy always kept up a line of chatter with the very vocal St. Louis fans, and often filled in as a cheer leader when they wanted to yell.

He hatches up a lot of stunts during a ball game and one of Wares' favorites is the "silent treatment" for the batter who has just clouted a home run. The hitter trots to the dugout, expecting a wave of back slapping and receives stony silence instead.

Once when Buzzy was coaching at first base, however, an incident which sent the fans and the opposing team into gales of laughter left him cold. Jesse Haines beat out a bunt to first base, but, thinking Bill Klem had called him out, turned and headed for the dugout. Buzzy screamed: "Get back, get back," but before Haines could regain the base he was tagged out.

This irked Wares no end, and before he finished telling Klem what he thought of Klem's umpiring, he was waved to the showers.

Revenue Agents Find N. Y. Moonshine Still

By The United Press

NEW YORK — Mountaineers have no monopoly on making moonshine, it was shown after federal revenuers found a still in this metropolitan area.

Antonio De Paoli, 48, was arrested as the operator of the still, which had a capacity of 300 to 400 gallons daily, and enabled the moonshiner the agents said, to cheat the government of nearly $150,000 a month in alcohol taxes.

Wheelchair Writer Covers All Sports As Newspaperman

By The United Press

RIVER FALLS, Wis.—Paralysis crept into the life of Raymond Baird, 28, when he left high school, but wheelchair-bound, he became a newspaper sports writer.

The River Falls Journal and the New Richmond News have printed his column—"A Knockout Every Time"—weekly, for eight years. To many of his fans, he's a ground-covering, omnipresent sports writer.

The malady that cripples Baird's arms and legs is spastic paralysis. Raymond now has only two fingers per hand that can serve his sports-crowded brain in getting on paper the teeming tales of athletics he's studied for years.

In a farm house near River Falls, Baird chronicles the sports world from his wheelchair. He knows the standings of teams and individuals for years back, and can quote obscure statistics on the spur of the moment.

He also writes for several national publications and for metropolitan daily papers.

His scrapbook holds letters of encouragement from the late baseball commissioner, Judge K. M. Landis, Chicago Cub owner P. K. Wrigley, and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

Mrs. Roosevelt has twice used his case in her "My Day" column to point up the possibilities for invalids. Radio stations in Milwaukee and Minneapolis have broadcast his words, and others have used his life story.

Motorists Warned To Use Right Meter

By The United Press

LIVINGSTON, Mont. — Police Chief Frank Olson advises motorists in Livingston to pay the left-hand parking meter and warns that no longer will the excuse that "I put my money in the wrong box," be accepted.

Since Livingston adopted diagonal parking in the business district, motorists have been flipping coins to determine whether to pay the meter on the right or the one on the left.

Too often they've been guessing wrong, Olson says.

The tobacco plant was brought to Europe in 1558 by Francisco Fernandes, sent by Philip II of Spain to investigate the products of Mexico.

By International News Service

MEADVILLE, Pa.—When Sam Way was in boot camp at Great Lakes Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Ill., in 1942, he amused himself in idle moments by cutting his initials in pennies. The other day one of the pennies came back to him in change with a package of cigarets from a vending machine.

Thieves Fail To Open Safe in Office Here

C. L. Baldauf of 553 King avenue reported to police this morning that offices of Baldauf and Schlientz, Inc., at 159 North Greenwood street had been broken into Wednesday night.

Police investigated, finding that entrance was gained by raising a window on the south side of the building and that the door to the main office was jimmied open.

Findings lead police to conclude that someone had attempted to batter the safe open with a sledge hammer. They checked the sledge found by the safe for finger prints, but found none.

Aside from the attempt to open the safe nothing had been taken and nothing was disturbed.

Accused Embezzler Surrenders to Police

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Aug. 21—An accused embezzler was held by the FBI today on charges of taking $9,000 from the First National bank of Lake Worth, Fla.

E. C. Richardson, special agent in charge of the Cleveland office of the FBI, said Roy Bruck, 27, former cashier of the Florida bank, walked into the Cleveland police detective bureau yesterday and gave himself up, saying:

"I have no regrets. I had a good time traveling around the country and spending the money. I got rid of most of it by gambling at Las Vegas, Nev."

Bruck was quoted by Richardson as saying he took the money after his wife sued him for divorce three weeks ago.

Refugees Given Choice Of France or Germany

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Aug. 21 — Britain handed an ultimatum today to 4,400 Jewish refugees aboard three British ships off southern France, ordering them to disembark by 12 noon tomorrow or be transported to Germany.

A foreign office announcement said that if the Jews declined to go ashore, "the ships will sail for the British zone of Germany where their passengers will be immediately disembarked."

The refugees, who are without visas for Palestine, were intercepted by British craft off the Holy Land coast as they tried to evade the British blockade last month in the vessel called "Exodus 1947." They were placed aboard the three British ships and returned on July 29 to France, where they began their voyage.

Death Takes Senator Bilbo

By The Associated Press

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 21—Senator Theodore G. Bilbo of Mississippi, sharp-tongued champion of white supremacy, died here today without ever having taken his disputed seat in the 80th congress.

Did You Know

An early American enterprise was the shipping of ice from New England to the tropics. The ice was packed in white pine sawdust, and the Americans promoted its sale by showing the natives how to make ice cream and iced drinks.

The principal vegetable products of the Belgian Congo grown for export are: Palm oil, cotton, rubber, coffee, sugar, cocoa, lumber, peanuts, castor oil, tobacco, rice, maize, manioc, essential oils and bananas.

Knock-Knees Fret Australian Doctor

By The Associated Press

MELBOURNE, Australia—Why do more pre-school age Australian children today have knock-knees than before the war?

The medical officer of the Returned Soldiers' League, Dr. A. P. Derham, says it might be because collapsible wooden "playgrounds" tempted youngsters to stand or walk for long periods. Other causes, he said, might be:

Young children standing with their mothers in shopping queues.

Increased use of concrete and other hard substances in paths.

A possible deterioration of diet during the war.

Coal Output Down

The new soft coal contract is causing tonnage losses averaging 8 to 10 per cent, the National Coal association reports. Announcing production of 11,800,000 tons for the week ending July 26, the association said it was too early to make an accurate comparison between output under the old 9-hour day and the new 8-hour one. Production for the corresponding week last year was 12,603,000 tons. The association said the reduction had occurred despite the fact that mines generally are on a six-day week.

SOME STOCKS GAIN BUT MAJORITY FAIL

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 21—Selected stocks exhibited mild recovery tendencies today although many market leaders continued to falter.

Dealings were relatively quiet after a fairly active opening and moderate irregularity prevailed near the fourth hour. A number of good dividends and earnings virtually were ignored.

Occasional gainers included Youngstown Sheet, U. S. Steel, Goodyear, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, Western Union, Woolworth, International Harvester, American Telephone, American Can, Dow Chemical, American Machine and Foundry and Gaylord Container.

Stumblers now and then were General Motors, Goodrich, United Aircraft, N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific, American Smelting, Roan Antelope (on sizable blocks), Westinghouse, General Electric, J. C. Penney, J. I. Case and Deere. Numerous pivotals were unchanged.

Three Bandits Hold Up Springfield Barbershop

By The Associated Press

SPRINGFIELD, O., Aug. 21—Police today sought three men who held up the rear room of a barbershop yesterday in the heart of downtown Springfield.

The men carried pistols and a sawed-off shot gun. They lined up customers in the barbershop of Sanford J. Palmer yesterday afternoon and made them empty their pockets into a sack.

Police Lt. Martin Donnelly said the location previously had been raided as a "bookie joint."

Loot was estimated at $2,000.

Bromfield Thinks Old-Time General Farm Outmoded

By The United Press

CLEVELAND — Louis Bromfield believes the old-style general farm is on the way out.

"I don't see how it can compete against the specialists," he said. "It can't afford the variety of machinery, and that means drudgery and less production for effort."

Bromfield can speak with authority, for the noted author operates successfully a 1,000-acre farm near Mansfield.

The farm, famed Malabar, is co-operative. Farmers work on a bonus system as revolutionary as any ever devised. Working hours are from 8 to 6 and mechanization has removed farm drudgery.

The former novelist and Pulitzer Prize winner started the Malabar experiment in 1939, when he transferred his agrarian laboratory from the department of Oise, France, to Richland county. His projects were land restoration, soil and water conservation, and food self-sufficiency for a farm.

Cites Achievements

As to whether or not he has succeeded in these peaceful, post-war aims, he points to a list of note-worthy farming improvements:

1. Erosion control has been so successful that 95 per cent of run-off water was checked in less than six years. Springs dry for 50 years or more are running again.

2. Cattle capacity of the farm has been quadrupled.

3. Fields from which not even sufficient wheat for seed could be harvested now are averaging 33 to 36 bushels per acre. Fields which yielded 10 bushels of corn per acre now produce 70 and Bromfield expects the yield to go to 100.

4. Vegetable gardens and orchards are not sprayed but are free from disease.

"Balanced soil keeps plants from disease healthy plants are not attacked to an appreciable extent," Bromfield said.

Between Two Loves

The author-farmer has been torn between his two interests since youth. He became rural-minded at Mansfield, where he was born in 1896, but left for New York and Columbia University and a career in writing.

The lure of the pen was not mightier than the soil, however, and Bromfield hit on the compromise of writing—from a farm. Like any good farmer, he is an active citizen and not above public work. Currently he is the most unlikely man ever to be

Programs on the Air

For the third successive season the coast-to-coast facilities of the Mutual Broadcasting System will carry the play-by-play descriptions of Army football games in behalf of Army Recruiting Service, with the first broadcast scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 27, when the undefeated Army team meets Villanova at Michie Field, West Point.

When Arnold Eidus, young American violinist, appears as soloist on ABC's Saturday concert broadcast of Aug. 30, a cycle begun just a year ago will be completed. In the interim, however, and as a result of that broadcast, Eidus won an international competition, an award of 50,000 francs and fulfilled some 50 engagements abroad.

On Aug. 30 Eidus will play Lalo's "Symphonie Espagnole" with the American Broadcasting Symphony, Bronislav Gimpel conducting. The broadcast, will be heard from 4 to 5 p. m. Gimpel conducted the same ensemble a year ago on the occasion of Eidus' appearance. Unknown either to the violinist or conductor, the committee for the Jacques Thibaud International Competition was listening in. Eidus was invited to go to Paris for the competition against 140 contestants from 28 countries.

The New York boy, who made his debut at the age of 12 as a child prodigy, received the unanimous decision of the 22 judges, was given a violin, 50,000 francs and a tour of 30 European engagements.

SCIENTISTS STUDY "NO-PAIN" DRUG

By International News Service

CHICAGO—Scientists are studying a Chicago-manufactured drug capable of blacking out pain without leaving the patient suffering from the annoying and often dangerous side effects of such analgesics as morphine.

The compound, known as AN-148, first was synthesized in Germany and is now being manufactured by the Abbott Laboratories.

Early tests show it can successfully replace morphine in some cases.

Morphine has been the most powerful and most rapid pain-reliever known to medicine but at the same time, one of the most perilous.

The Mayo Brothers' clinic at Rochester, Minn., reports promising results with AN-148 as a morphine substitute.

Reports indicate that patients with chronic ulcerative colitis and severe generalized abdominal cramps felt better after having been administered AN-148.

The Mayo clinic said no side reactions and no tendency to addiction have been reported when AN-148 was administered as a peranesthetic.

Dr. Richard Richards of the Abbott Laboratories, said favorable reports have also come from other clinics, but the matter of addiction still is under careful study." He added:

"It appears that AN-148 will fit in best as medication to relieve pain after surgery. In my opinion, AN-148 will become a standard part of the surgeon's technique. It will be able to do some jobs that morphine can do but will not replace it entirely."

Student Pilot Crashes Plane Into Ohio River

By The Associated Press

PORTSMOUTH, O., Aug. 21—The body of a 26-year-old student pilot was sought in the Ohio river today after he had crashed his burning light plane yesterday.

Richard Doyle, deputy internal revenue collector and a World War II veteran spun his plane from 1,800 feet yesterday, straightened its course for the Ohio river and crashed in 10 to 15 feet of water as its fuselage burned.

Gene Hall, of the Raven Rock airport, where Doyle was studying, said he was flying near Doyle at the time of the accident. Hall said the plane was afire behind the pilot's seat. He said he thought Dole crashed in the water intentionally.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

MARY stared incredulously at me for a second.

Then she flashed across to me and swept me into her arms in a bear hug

"You adorable Donna Quixote!" she apostrophized. "Also you consummate idiot! And you really would do that for me! I can see it in your eyes! Sacrifice your own career because I'm not sure what I can do with mine!"

She hugged me again, and then made another broadcast

"That's out, absolutely!" she clared. "And Noel and I will work something out. There's plenty of time."

"Yes," I said hesitantly, and she pounced on me.

"You really don't think I'm quite fit yet for 'planned parenthood,' or 'little accidents,'?" she queried mockingly.

"I think," I said steadily, "that Dr Twitchell will give you sound professional advice upon that subject. Katharine would not advise you, even though she has no superior in the nursing profession. And I certainly would not proffer an opinion."

Affectionate Mockery

"Do you know you're a goop?" she asked, with affectionate mockery in her eyes.

"But you're a darling goop!" she added hastily "And a truce to name-calling! Suppose we get busy on our 'home work'"

"Suppose you trot yourself into the bathroom and let me give you a nice warm tub and a rubdown," Katharine said with decision, from the doorway. "I've been teetering from one foot to the other, thinking Philip Vertizen was in here all this time I was just coming to give him the old heave-ho, and here I find you two gossips buzzing away. I expected it of you, Mary, but Madge! Honestly, I thought she had more sense! This girl has a full day's schedule behind and in front of her, and she needs frequent spells of rest in between."

"I'm sorry," I said sincerely, for Katharine so seldom gets tough, as she puts it, that I always feel meek when she does

"And you never, never will do it again?" my kinswoman flashed back with a laugh.

"Never! Never!" I promised, smiling back at her, and then Mary took up the cudgels for me

"Auntie Madge isn't to blame one bit,' she said stoutly. "I just kept buzzing her so hard, she didn't have time to answer back, or to get out of the way"

"I can believe that," Katharine said smiling "But now, suppose you forego the chatter and come with me"

Tucked Into Bed

Mary and I followed her into the bedroom, and when Mary had had her warm tub, and her rubdown, Katharine and I tucked her into her bed

"Now your aunt and I are going to have a gossip in the other room," Katharine told her. "I don't expect you to sleep, but lie quietly and relax If I think you're rested enough in a half hour, you may get up and go at your lines, or receive guests, just as you like"

"I've got to see Mother and 'Lina," Mary said, giving her husband's beautiful, stately stepmother the name the older woman loves And I'd better get that over with first Then I'll have a long stretch for my lines

"I don't mean that the way it sounds,' she amended hastily "I really am crazy about seeing my nice in-laws, but I'm crazier about having a nice long stretch of undisturbed time in which to study."

Will Have Both

"You'll have both" Katharine told her, "but I really think you could sleep a little if you put your mind on it"

"I could," Mary said petulantly, "if it weren't for those blasted bars They grin like devils' teeth at me all the time

"Don't get me wrong," she went on. "I'm not protesting I know the Median edicts when I see them, and I'll simply wait until the things come off But I don't want you two darlings to think you're putting anything over on me I know why the bars went up, and I'll know when they come down that you think I'm all right again"

"I'm not admitting anything," I told her stoutly, "but supposing you were right in your premise, can't you see that the person we're putting something over on is Noel, not you?"
